Harriman Plots New GOP Split on Phones

2 A. M. Closing Granted, Starts on June 15

Business In Resort Area Basis

Controversy Is Almost Year Old

Establishments serving alcoholic beverages today were given permission by the Ulster County Alcoholic Beverage Control Board to remain open until 2 a. m. seven days a week effective Saturday, June 15.

The decision, issued in a joint statement by the two-member board, ended nearly a year of attempts by the Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers Association to get the present 1 a. m. closing modified.

Cite 'Border Hopping'

Robert A. MacKinnon, Republican member of the board, and Harry Howard, Democrat, in their statement, indicated their decision was based on present "border hopping"—travel by Ulster county residents to neighboring counties where the curfew is later than 1 a. m.—and its adverse effect on the county's resort business.

The ABC Board also noted that violation of the 2 a. m. closing and the sale of alcoholic beverages to minors under 18 years of age "would not be dealt with leniently."

Started Last July

Controversy over the 1 a. m. closing reverts to July 28, 1956 when the local ABC Board announced its order that effective Oct. 1, 1956 taverns and restaurants would have to close at the earlier hour instead of 3 a. m.

The liquor dealers association immediately made requests for modification of the 1 a. m. curfew and the issue became involved in litigation. Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein dismissed, on Feb. 4, the motion for a permanent injunction to restrain the ABC Board from imposing the earlier closing hour.

Church Groups Oppose

Several church groups opposed any modification and were represented at a Saturday meeting with the ABC Board and the liquor dealers association committee.

George Broome, of Saugerties, president of the liquor dealers association, said today, in a statement released by Attorney Sherwood E. Davis, counsel for the group, that he appreciated "the thoughtful consideration of the ABC Board" and pledged membership cooperation "in all respects in the hopes of keeping the fine record of Ulster county licensees."

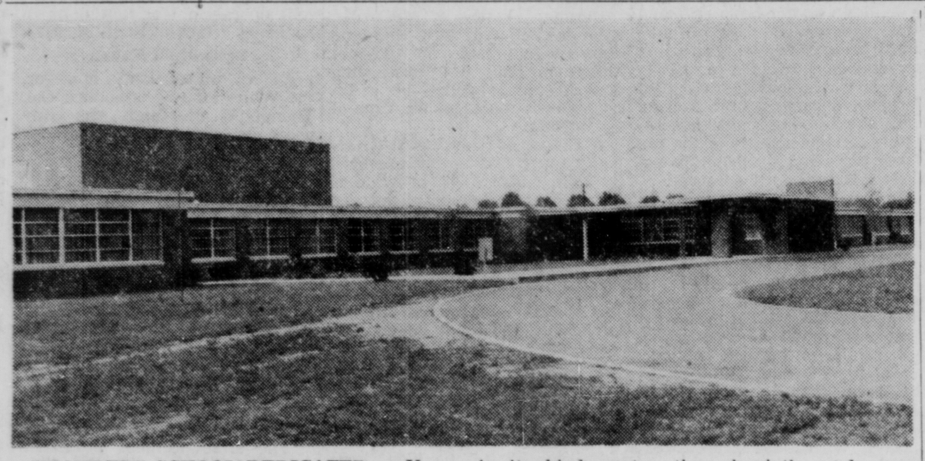

Asked for 3 A. M.

The liquor dealers association said last week it "would be grateful" for a 2 a. m. closing across the board, but Robert E. Teetsel, chairman of the association committee, reported his group felt that establishments should be permitted to remain open until 3 a. m. on Saturdays.

The 2 a. m. closing was one of several discussed at meetings last Thursday and Saturday.

Another proposal was a 2 a. m. curfew six nights a week and a 3 a. m. curfew on Saturday, while another would have per-

Sentence Due June 14

Cleaver Pleads Guilty To Murder, 2nd Degree

Franklin Delano Cleaver, 22, Downsville, entered a plea of guilty to second degree murder in County Court this morning when the case was moved for trial before County Judge Louis G. Bruhn.

Cleaver had been indicted for first degree murder for the death of his wife, Dixie May Cleaver, 20, last November 1. She was found in a car on central Broadway, Kingston, with a bullet wound in her head.

Acceptable to DA

Appearing in County Court with his attorney, Francis X. Tucker, who with Robert Ortale had been assigned by the court as defense lawyers, Cleaver withdrew his former plea of innocent to the first degree murder charge and stated he desired to plead to second degree murder.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John said the plea was acceptable and he would file with the court his reasons for accepting the lesser plea.

Cleaver will be sentenced at 10 o'clock on Friday, June 14.

Not Living Together

Cleaver and his wife had not been residing together for some time prior to the shooting. She had been residing at 298 Clinton avenue and he had been living with his parents in Downsville.

Dixie May Cleaver was fatally shot as she sat in a car on central Broadway last November. She died in Kingston Hospital some time after the shooting and her husband was picked up by state police at Downsville several hours after she had expired.

Think She Refused

Police at the time stated the shooting apparently took place when the wife refused to return to Cleaver.

Mrs. Cleaver had been employed as a tray girl at the Benedictine Hospital for about three months.

Mrs. Cleaver was on her way home in a car on the afternoon of the shooting. The car had been stopped on Broadway while the driver carried out an errand. While seated in the car Cleaver and his wife apparently had a discussion and when she apparently refused to return to her husband she was shot in the head with a .22 calibre revolver. The couple have a small son who has been residing with his grandmother in Downsville.

Father Serving Life

Mrs. Cleaver was the daughter of LeRoy Luscomb, Downsville, who is serving a life sentence for shooting to death his estranged wife in 1943. Authorities said Mrs. Luscomb had been living with her parents in Corbett, near

Liberal Victory Expected to Keep Canada Control

Toronto, June 10 (AP)—Canada votes for a new parliament today with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent's Liberal Party strongly favored to extend its 22-year rule.

Despite the general expectation of a Liberal victory, the Conservatives maintained they have a chance to oust the Liberals from control of the 265-member House of Commons.

The Conservatives were counted on to pick up a substantial number of seats in populous Ontarior Province, which plays as important a role in Canadian elections as New York does in the United States.

Would Still Be Short

Some experts estimated the Conservatives might gain as many as 15 to 20 seats, but this still would leave them far short of a majority.

The Liberals won 171 seats in the 1953 election, giving them a 94-vote majority over the combined opposition. The Conservatives took only 51.

Canada's two other major par-

Parley Still On WithCongressmen

Washington, June 10 —President Eisenhower was kept abed today by a "stomach upset" which came on about 10 p. m. last night. A physician was with him all night, and heart and intestinal specialists were called in today.

The White House said the visits from the specialists were "purely precautionary," and Vice President Nixon indicated to reporters that the upset was not regarded as a serious matter.

Expected in Tomorrow

"We expect to see him (Eisenhower) back in his office tomorrow."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, told reporters he had received a report from the White House just before noon that "they feel much better over there about his condition."

Knowland said this word came from Maj. Gen. Wilton Persons in a telephone talk. Persons in a White House aide.

Knowland said the President's planned meeting with Congressional leaders has not yet been washed off the calendar.

"As yet," he said, "the meeting tomorrow is still up in the air."

Reporters Get News..

Reporters were called to a news conference at 12:18 p. m. (EDT) by Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty—presumably to receive the latest news on the President's condition.

The attack came just two days after the first anniversary of the illness for which Eisenhower underwent major abdominal surgery.

Hagerty, however, said a recurrence of last year's ileitis attack apparently was ruled out.

Hagerty said the distress this

C of C Directors to Meet Tuesday, Members Invited

Members of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce are invited to attend any meetings of the board of directors.

This reminder was issued today by Robert L. Sabin, Chamber vice-president, in announcing that the regular June directors' meeting would be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, June 11 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The meetings of the board of directors are not closed sessions and any members interested in attending, either to just sit in or to bring up any specific questions, would be welcome.

It was reported that some complaints have been registered stating that there are not enough open meetings for Chamber members while others say that the open meetings now held should be combined and the number reduced. In commenting on this situation a spokesman stated that most Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce business and activities are carried on by approximately 25 committees consisting of a total of nearly 250 different volunteer persons. These committees study various problems or plan activities and recommend the stand or action which might be taken to the board of directors. The directors, elected by the members, establish policies

Charged With Assault, 2nd

Tabor Held for Jury, Shooting Victim Good

David Paul Tabor, 22, of Decatur, Ill., an engineering trainee at IBM, was arrested Saturday afternoon by the Ulster county sheriff's office on a charge of assault second degree involving the shooting of a Kingston youth earlier that morning.

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace John L. Smith, waived examination and was held for the grand jury. He was released in $500 bail.

Stephano Good

In good condition in Kingston Hospital today was George Stephano of 31 Crown street with a flesh wound in his lower left leg.

The trouble apparently began with words between occupants of two cars waiting for the traffic light at the Governor Clinton Hotel about 1:45 a. m. Saturday. Tabor and several other IBM engineering trainees were in one car, Stephano and three other youths in a second car, according to the sheriff's office.

Follow in Car

Driving the car in which Stephano was a passenger was Paul Klonowski, 17, of 26 Jarrold street, a Kingston High School senior. Others in the car were Donald DeKoskie, 20, of 26 Snyder avenue, and John Tomaseski, 17, of 51 Newkirk avenue, a postgraduate student at KHS.

County Investigator Arthur H. Brown said the trainees drove to Lomontville where they rent a private home. They were followed by Klonowski.

Returns With Pistol

Arriving at the home a loud argument started in the yard, the county investigator said.

Tabor reportedly entered the house and returned with a 9 mm. Walther automatic pistol—unlicensed and unregistered.

According to Tabor's version, he the pistol into the ground "to frighten" the other youths, the bullet striking Stephano.

It was reported that some of the youths had been drinking.

Airline Refusal To Be Heard on Negro Applicant

The first public hearing against a major air line charged with discriminatory hiring practices has been scheduled for July 9 following an investigation by J. Edward Conway of Kingston, a member of the State Commission Against Discrimination.

The company, Trans World Airlines, Inc., is accused of having refused last September to hire Dorothy W. Franklin as one of its hostesses on the grounds that she has "poor complexion ... unattractive teeth" and legs that are "not shapely." Miss Franklin is a Negro.

Mr. Conway, former Ulster county judge, who later interviewed Miss Franklin, reported that he and his staff were unanimous in their opinion that the

Assembly Will Get Bill First

Mahoney Readies To Make Attack

Albany, June 10 (AP)—Gov. Harriman moved today in an effort to provoke a new Republican split over telephone rates as the GOP-controlled Legislature convened in special session.

A spokesman for the Democratic Governor said Harriman's bill designed to hold down phone rates would be introduced only in the Assembly, which passed it at the regular session and then watched it die in Senate committee.

To Thwart GOP Plan

The move was intended to thwart a Republican plan for avoiding open rupture over the telephone issue. GOP leaders had decided to allow the Senate to act first this time—to kill the measure—thus making an Assembly vote unnecessary.

Republicans could counter by introducing their own bill in the Senate but they would have to wait until Thursday to act on it. This move, a Harriman aide said, would only underscore the GOP's intent to kill the measure.

Harriman came under angry attack as the session convened in an atmosphere charged with political overtones of next year's election for governor.

'Black Jack,' Says Mahoney

In the Senate, majority leader Walter J. Mahoney accused the Democratic governor of trying to "black jack" the legislative branch of government into his way of thinking.

Mahoney was set to take the floor immediately after reading of Harriman's formal message demanding new unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation bills, "with no strings attached," and action to hold down telephone rates.

The GOP leader denounced Harriman for what he called "abject truckling to the Liberal party" and for recalling the lawmakers under circumstances that he said were "political—and political only."

Makes Demands

Harriman promptly served on the opening sessions of the Senate and Assembly (noon, EDT) his demands for raising unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation benefits "with no strings attached" and for action to hold down telephone rates.

The Democratic governor's tersely worded message laid down terms that defiant GOP leaders already had spurned—in favor of their own course of action.

Both sides weighed their words and deeds in the light of probable voter reaction in the 1958 election.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahony, both potential opponents of Harriman next year, last night renewed their pledge to pass the same worker-benefit bills that Harriman vetoed in April.

He'll Reject Them

Harriman contends that the

Statement on Vaccine Is Expected Here This Week

A joint statement from the Ulster County Medical Society and the Board of Supervisors on the county's Salk anti-polio vaccine program, is expected to be made this week, it was indicated.

An Albany report today indicated, meanwhile, that the vaccine program has been progressing best in the lower age group, but it said that about 41 per cent of all New Yorkers under 40 has had no Salk anti-polio vaccine.

Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe, of the state health department today urged all physicians to continue vaccinations during the summer, the Associated Press said. Provisions have been made for a vaccine program here through the Board of Supervisors and a committee of the Ulster County Medical Society.

They plan to release details of the program within the next few days.

Dr. Hilleboe, in a letter to all up-state physicians, said the group with the poorest vaccination records were those from 20 to 39 years of age. The 5 to 14 group, he said, has the best record, 83 per cent having had at least one dose.

There have been 11 paralytic cases in the first five months of 1957 in the entire state, compared with 56 in the same period last year.

Dr. Hilleboe reported that vaccine was in short supply. But he said that was not the only reason why people have not been vaccinated. He said many persons were indifferent toward vaccination, some questioned its

Accepts Resignation

Paris, June 10 (AP)—President Rene Coty finally accepted the resignation of Socialist member Guy Mollet today, clearing the way for an Assembly vote on a successor. Premier-Designate Maurice Bourges-Maunoury emerged from a brief meeting with Coty to announced he would present his cabinet for an Assembly vote as quickly as possible probably Wednesday. Bourges-Maunoury, defense minister in Mollet's outgoing cabinet is given a fair chance of winning the vote and ending France's three-weeks-old crisis. Coty's acceptance of Mollet's resignation was interpreted as meaning Bourges-Maunoury thinks he will win.

Airline Refusal

"objections to complainant's physical appearance are not accurate."

Says Negroes Barred

He suggested instead that the reason Miss Franklin was not hired was because she is a Negro and, "from my investigation herein, I believe that respondent has maintained a policy of barring Negoes from employment as flight hostesses."

Mr. Conway termed the stated reason for not hiring her "a contrived excuse."

In announcing a public hearing in the case, Chairman Charles Abrams of the State Commission Against Discrimination noted that the hearing was decided upon only after "the failure of extended conciliation processes."

TWA Statement

TWA issued a statement saying that "As an international air line serving the public at 17 overseas countries and the United States, TWA serves and employs representatives of every race without discrimination. Employes are hired by TWA solely on the basis of merit and the qualifications for the position."

Miss Franklin, 21, a soft-spoken Queens College evening student, is a clerk in the book-order department of the New York Public Library. She lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Franklin at 2-10 Astoria Boulevard, Astoria, Queens, and applied for the flight job last summer in answer to the help-wanted advertisement.

She took a series of intelligence and medical tests and was told a week later that she would not get the job. She complained in October to the SCAD which received the excuse from the air line that she just wasn't pretty enough.

Conway's Report

The report by Mr. Conway asserted that the airline employs 1,500 flight hostesses, has a yearly turnover of 500, had positions open at the time of Miss Franklin's application but "has never employed a Negro in any flight capacity, including that of flight hostess."

Miss Franklin was reported mildly amused at the slighting references made to her face and figure. "I agree with Mr. Conway that the statements are not factually accurate," she said.

Statement

safety and others did not appreciate its effectiveness.

Must Reach People

"Efforts must be made to reach these people with facts about the value and safety of Salk vaccine," he said.

Vaccination efforts should not stop in the summer, he said. "Evidence gathered during outbreaks last year," he added, "shows that fears of provoking the disease by injections of poliomyelitis vaccine during periods of increased prevalence are unfounded, and it appears safe to give it to household contacts of poliomyelitis cases."

Applies to Salk

"However," he added, "the general rule not to inoculate any persons who have evidence of acute infections applies to the use of poliomyelitis vaccine as well as other immunizing agents."

Dr. Hilleboe said that injections of vaccines other than for polio and operations of the nose throat and mouth still should be avoided in summer. He listed as exceptions cases involving infants, smallpox, diphtheria booster shots, tetanus and partussis.

Firemen checked a brush fire off Dunneman avenue yesterday afternoon. Wiltwyck Station and the volunteers' truck there answered a call at 10:30 a. m., and the blaze was checked with Indian pumps.

Four Killed

Pacoima, Calif., June 10 (AP)—A plane hit a house last night, killing the four passengers, but eight persons sharing a birthday dinner in the home were unhurt. Neighbors in this plane crash-conscious San Fernando Valley suburb of Los Angeles today were calling it "a miracle."

Mr. Kelly was elected chairman of the county Democratic party Feb. 1, 1957.

He is a graduate of St. Joseph's School, Kingston High School, Fordham University and Fordham Law School.

He is married to the former Jeanette Wilhelm of Ellenville and they have three sons.

Harriman Plots

GOP bills attach "unjust" provisions to proposed benefit increases. He has indicated that, if they are passed again, he will again reject them.

At the same time, it was learned that Heck and Mahoney had agreed on a plan for handling the telephone bill that will lead to its death—in Senate committee—while minimizing a major GOP split on the issue.

Mahoney and Heck assailed Harriman violently in an 800-word joint statement on the eve of the session.

They declared that the governor had "demanded" his powers by calling what they described as the "most unnecessary session within memory."

The GOP leaders also branded Harriman's action as a "payoff" to the Liberal party, which has opposed their legislation. Harriman had effective Liberal support in his 1954 campaign.

The governor asserted in his message that increases in the worker benefits were long overdue. He called for boosts in top weekly benefits from $36 to $45. Harriman also maintained that passage of the telephone bill was vital to protect consumers from "a substantial and unreasonable rate increase."

Since no compromise on the worker-benefit legislation appeared likely, the special session figured before it convened to be a legislative standoff. It could have sharp repercussions in the 1958 election, however.

Other Measures

Harriman placed seven measures on the agenda. Besides the worker-benefit and telephone bills, there were relatively non-controversal bills proposing to:

1. Clamp a $100-a-week ceiling on the amount of sickness-disability pay that can be exempted from the state income tax. The ceiling would apply to income earned in 1957 and ensuing years.

2. Extend to volunteer firemen any additional workmen's compensation benefits that might be enacted at the session.

3. Allow local governments to borrow to pay the cost of providing retroactive social security coverage for their employes.

4. Permit them to make coverage retroactive for 21 months, instead of 18 months as specified by current law.

Harriman's message urged passage of all these measures. The chances for all four appeared good.

2 A. M. Closing

mitted a 3 a. m. closing on Friday, Saturday and holiday eves.

Board Non-Partisan

Mr. MacKinnon has been a member of the board since May 20 when he succeeded Lawrence M. Jenson, Republican member, who served for the past eight years, and resigned, giving no reasons for his decision. Mr. MacKinnon was appointed by the chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

The two-member board is non-partisan by law and must be composed of one Democrat and one Republican.

Official Ruling

The statement issued today by Mr. MacKinnon and Mr. Howard follows:

"On Oct. 1 last this board changed the closing hours of all bars and grills from 3 a. m. to 1 a. m. At the time the change was made it was announced as an experiment. Experience under this modified regulation has indicated that the objective which the board sought to obtain by the change has not been accomplished.

"We find the 1 a. m. closing hour has resulted in what might be called border-hopping' and that vacationists and Ulster county residents have been using our highways after 1 a. m. to travel to adjoining counties where the closing hour is 3 a. m. Thus, the present regulation has resulted in an increase in the use of our highways by drinking patrons rather than a decrease.

See Effectiveness

"We feel that the new 2 a. m. regulation will have a tendency to discourage this practice, because as a practical matter, if patrons of bars and grills seek to travel from Ulster county after 2 a. m. to adjacent counties for the purpose of patronizing places in other counties, by the time they arrive at such places, they will be closed. Thus we hope the new regulation will succeed where the present one failed.

"If experience under the new regulation shall prove unsatisfactory, we will reconsider our decision at some future time.

Resorts Considered

"The board is quite conscious of the fact that Ulster county is a year-round resort area with a large part of our local economy and employment based upon resort business. Many of the patrons of our local resorts come from New York city where the closing hours are 4 a. m. The present regulation has had a tendency to adversely affect the resort business. We believe that the new regulation will minimize the objections of vacationists.

"As we see it, we should enact such regulations as will promote temperance and not prohibition. Since the sale of alcoholic beverages is legal in New York state it is our job to see that it is properly conducted.

"The board also wished to announce that any licensee violating the ABC laws, and especially those pertaining to the selling of alcoholic beverages after the 2 a. m. closing time, or to minors under the age of 18 years, would not be dealt with leniently.

"The board is asking the cooperation of all law enforcement agencies in seeing that these provisions of the law are upheld."

Hof Held on 3 Charges Saturday

August Hof Jr., 39, of 24 Abeel street, was arrested Saturday night on three charges after police received a complaint that he was driving without a license.

It was charged that he had no operator's license, no insurance and the car had improper plates. The arrest was made by officers Gilbert Gray and Everett Emmick on Ferry street at 8:55 p. m. The complaint was received at police headquarters at 8:25 p. m.

Attorney Joseph Hill appeared today for the defendant and City Judge Raymond J. Mino put the case over until June 17. John E. Gotelli appeared for the district attorney's office.

Drivers Fined $20

Four other drivers paid fines of $20 each on charges of speeding. They were Patrick Flynn, 63, of 13 Liberty street, Newburgh, who was arrested early Sunday on East Chester street by officers Gilbert Gray and Everett Emmick; William Cragan, 18, of 13 Emerick street, arrested by the same two officers on East Chester street, Saturday night; Ronald J. Wiggins, 22, of RD 4, Box 226, Kingston, arrested this morning on Lucas avenue by officers Charles McCullough and Albert Hutton, and Frank Dailey, 51, of Port Ewen, who was arrested Friday on Albany avenue by Officer Gurnsey Burger Jr.

Walden Man Loses Life in Wallkill River on Sunday

A 30-year-old Walden man lost his life Sunday afternoon when a 12-foot boat in which he was riding with five other persons capsized in the Wallkill river in the village of Wallkill.

Randolph Trigger, 52 Railroad avenue, slipped beneath the water and failed to come up.

Five Rescued

The other five, including two small children, were rescued.

They were:

Victor Lockwood, 15, Walker Valley, who was operating the boat at the time.

Mrs. Ruth Valk, 26, Walden, whose husband, Albert Valk, owns the boat.

Paul Valk, 6, and Raymond Valk, 2½, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Valk.

Joseph Haas, 33, of Montgomery.

The body of Mr. Trigger was recovered about 4:30 p. m., two hours after he disappeared.

Going Downstream

Coroner Francis J. McCardle, who investigated with Highland state police, said the 12-foot aluminum boat was proceeding downstream propelled by a 12-horsepower motor at the time of the mishap.

A 15-foot boat with a 25-horsepower outboard motor operated by John Kramer, 47, of Walden, was proceeding downstream and passed the Valk boat, the coroner said. Accompanying Mr. Kramer were his wife and grandson, Edward Pinn, 11.

Mrs. Kramer looked back a few seconds later and saw the occupants of the other boat struggling in the water. Mr. Kramer turned his boat around and went to the rescue.

Apparently none of the occupants of the capsized boat saw Mr. Trigger disappear. He was seen clinging to the boat, however, before he was missed.

The Middletown, Wallkill and Walden fire departments dispatched equipment and volunteers to the scene and administered oxygen when the body was recovered. Dr. Ira Wickner, Wallkill State Prison physician, pronounced Mr. Trigger dead.

The coroner's verdict was death by asphyxiation due to accidental drowning.

Mr. Trigger, who was unmarried, had worked at the General Slicing Co., Wallkill, for a number of years.

His body was turned over to the McHugh Funeral Home, Wallkill.

Investigating for Highland state police were Sgt. Linn Baker, BCI, Troopers Joseph Franke and T. J. Crowley. Also at the scene was Trooper Norman France of Montgomery.

'Matinee Burglar' Is Scheduled for Hearing in Court

Herbert Williams, Kingston's "matinee burglar" seeks to play a return engagement to the local courts.

Williams was sentenced to Dannemora state prison for allegedly entering places in Kingston. He posed as a salesman, carrying a brief case, and if no one responded to the doorbell he would enter the premises.

While residing in Kingston he worked at a local hotel and during his time off in the afternoon plied his secondary occupation. He was apprehended after Mrs. Bartoff, mother of Police Officer Ernest Bartroff became suspicious when she saw a strange man with a brief case not far from her home.

Williams, who formerly resided in Massachusetts, had applied for a hearing before the local County court on the grounds a plea under which he was sentenced was entered by his counsel and not by himself.

County Judge Louis G. Bruhn was district attorney at the time the Williams case was before the grand jury and as a result he disqualified himself in the present matter and the application will be heard by County Judge Fromer of Greene county.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Seven Killed As Bomb Goes Off at Casino

Algiers, June 10 (AP)—A terrorist bomb exploded under the bandstand last night as French couples danced the Cha-Cha-Cha in a fashionable seaside casino. It killed 7 young people and wounded 83—many of them members of prominent Algiers families.

Authorities assumed the bomb was planted by Algerian nationalists, who have stepped up their campaign of bombing and killing to press their independence demands on the French government.

President's Illness

time appeared to be in the stomach. Ileitis is an inflammation in the large intestine at the juncture with the small intestine, and not in the stomach region.

On that basis Hagerty said there was "no indication that this digestive upset is related in any way to the President's recent operation (for ileitis) or to his heart attack of Sept. 24, 1955.

Precaution Taken

As a "precaution," however, the White House summoned Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, the army heart specialist who attended Eisenhower in 1955.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist, also was called in two years ago as chief consultant, but White's office said today there had been no such call this time.

Eisenhower began complaining of stomach distress last evening. He became ill during the night.

The first announcement of Eisenhower's heart attack, suffered in Denver, also mentioned an upset stomach.

Stocks Decline

The announcement of Eisenhower's illness sent the New York Stock Exchange into a decline.

When the news broke about 15 minutes after the market's opening, prices were heading higher. The trend then was quickly reversed, and the high speed ticker fell more than five minutes behind in reporting transactions from the floor.

Losses ran more than $4 a share in some cases.

Expressions of Regret

Word of Eisenhower's illness drew immediate expressions of regret and concern from the Japanese embassy where officials were preparing for the impending official visit of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi of Japan. Kishi is due here June 19.

Hagerty said Eisenhower's appointments for the day were canceled on the advice of Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, white house physician.

Cleaver Pleads

Downsville, Delaware county, at the time of that shooting. Luscomb was convicted of first degree murder, but his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by former Governor Dewey.

Cleaver, who had previously appeared highly nervous when arraigned in court on the first degree murder charge, appeared much relaxed today and after taking his plea he consulted with his counsel before being remanded to jail for sentence Friday. He smiled as he left the court room in charge of Sheriff Claude Bell and several deputies.

Tunnel Picketing Reported Still Underway Today

Picketing at the Cannonsville reservoir tunnel job in Sullivan and Delaware counties by members of Local 17, International Hod Carriers and Laborers' Union, apparently was still going on today.

C. H. Mayer, business agent of the Local said over the weekend "important developments" could be expected this week in the matter. Members of the Local began picketing the job last week when no agreement was reached at conferences between the union negotiating committee and representatives of the contracting firm. These negotiations have been underway since April and when negotiations failed to settle the matter last week the job was picketed.

Endorsed by Teamsters

Members of Teamsters Local 445 endorsed the strike of Local 17 Friday. Charges that the Operating Engineers failed to respect the picket line and had taken over trucks abandoned by Local 17, were made last week, and Mayer Saturday charged that Jack Fanning, who was connected with the tunnel contracting firm's operation, is a son of Thomas Fanning of the Operating Engineers, Newburgh office. He said this connection may have something to do with the failure of the Operating Engineers to respect the picket line of Local 17.

Efforts to reach Mayer today failed, it being said he was en route to Kingston for further conferences.

What Moves the Bowels?

By Charles A. Weaver, D. C.

The average person believes that laxatives or cathartics, Epsom Salts for instance, is capable of moving the bowels. It never did move anybody's bowels!

The simple truth is, that cathartics are obnoxious substances which are irritating to the body. The reserve vitality of the patient is called upon to remove the obnoxious substances. It does so by pouring into the intestines and bowels quantities of water from the blood stream, speeding up the peristaltic action of the muscles so as to eliminate rapidly the irritating substance and most everything else that may be present. In other words, the bowels move the cathartic; the cathartic does not move the bowels.

The work of the Chiropractor is to free the nerve channel of any mechanical obstruction that might prevent communication between different parts of the nerves that control the bowels.

Chiropractic is not, nor has it ever been claimed as a cure-all. It simply holds that many conditions respond to its care without recourse of medicine and surgery and today there are millions of people who recognize Chiropractic and its worth.

These people have enjoyed its benefits!

New Buffalo, Mich. (AP)—Frank A. Castelluccio won the job of township highway commissioner in a recent election. The vote was 1-0. When he received his ballot, he says, he saw no one was running for the job. "We can't have this, I said to myself, so I wrote in my name, feeling sure there would be others." There were no others. Of course the job pays nothing, Castelluccio says, but that's all right because to the best of his memory, the highway commissioner does nothing either.

Carlino Perdicts Same Work Bill To Be Reenacted

New York, June 10 (AP)—Assemblyman Joseph F. Carlino, Republican majority leader, says the state will have to wait another year for increased unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation benefits unless Gov. Averell Harriman alters his position.

Carlino predicts that unless the Democratic governor changes his stand, the special session of the Republican-controlled legislature opening today in Albany will be "abortive."

Carlino, a Long Beach resident, made the statements yesterday in an interview on a television program (WRCA-TV, "Citizens Union Searchlight").

He predicted that the legislature will reenact the same unemployment pay and workmen's compensation bills which it passed at the regular session and which Harriman vetoed. Harriman, while favoring the increased benefits, objected to other features of the bills.

Harriman called the special session for action on the proposed increases and other matters.

The vetoed bills would raise the maximum benefits in jobless insurance and workmen's compensation from $36 to $45 a week. Increased maximum taxes on employers was Harriman's main objection to the jobless pay bill. He has indicated he will veto the bills again if they are re-passed in the same form.

Harriman wants the benefit increases handled separate from the other provisions in the bills to which he objected.

Carlino said it was "irresponsible and arrogant" of Harriman to attempt in his call for the special session to limit the legislature to consideration of the size of the benefits only.

Carlino also said he considered Harriman's call for the special session a "political" move rather than one in the interest of the people.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 10, 1957

VALUES FOR THE AGED

Dr. Frederic Zeman, a New York specialist on the diseases of the aged, objects strongly to use of the word senile, and insists that "senile dementia" is an outmoded diagnostic term. Aged people can be normal, psycho-neurotic or psychotic. But the behavioral manifestations of an aged person who is physically or emotionally ill must be observed and studied, not merely labeled.

Dr. Zeman also dislikes the connotation often put on the word "rehabilitation," which he considers to be both a theoretical concept and a method of therapy. While he has given much study to illnesses of the aged, he does not mark off or delineate these from illnesses of others. There is a higher incidence of certain afflictions in older people, but you do not have to be old to break your hip. Similarly, in the case of emotional illness or distress, the younger are also prey to what can torment the older.

There is health and clarity in what Dr. Zeman says. Before thinking of the aged as special people, we should think of them as people. With the gradual lengthening of the life span, our thinking about old age should change and become broadened.

For there are opportunities of happiness for those who have moved into the declining years. Also, there are, for many, chances to make constructive contributions. Old age should be seen as an inevitability rather than a calamity. An all-sided approach to the problems of age is needed so that the aged can continue to live as citizens enjoying more happiness and contributing to our society.

MILITARY FAT

Maintenance of very large military forces made necessary by the troubled world situation takes a tremendous slice of the federal budget pie. There is little prospect that this state of affairs will change significantly in the foreseeable future. That is why it is so important to take a hard look at military expenditures to winnow out the chaff of waste and duplication.

The national security is obviously of paramount importance. This does not mean that citizens must approve of absolutely any military expenditure. The very size of the military budget makes it all the more essential to trim out whatever fat there may be.

Armed forces have been historically more careless about money than other enterprises. Military men are used to demanding results without counting the monetary cost, and to a reasonable extent this is quite proper. This attitude does not justify waste or needless duplication of service, especially in time of peace.

It is not for a layman to determine whether this or that phase of military activities could be curtailed without endangering security. That is a job for the experts, both civilian and military. When considering the defense budget, the experts should not look upon their tasks as simply a choice between economy and adequate security. As a nation, we want all the muscle we can get in our armed forces. But unnecessary fat should be dispensed with.

LAND OF LINCOLN

The greatness of Lincoln increases with the years, and interest in his life story is proportionately enhanced. One of the results is that two states seem to be vying with each other in calling attention to their outstanding places in his ascent from log cabin to White House.

Illinois proudly identifies itself as "Land of Lincoln," for it was there he engaged in that part of his career which led directly to the presidency. Kentucky just as proudly proclaims itself as "The Original Land of Lincoln," for there he was born and lived during childhood.

Both states have so many notable places and shrines associated with Lincoln history and legend that they are virtually equa as an attraction for tourists. Few men ir the world's history have been so great tha every spot in the areas where life tool hem and even all the regions thereabouts ave been enshrined forever. Lincoln is among those few.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

WHAT DOES IT PROVE?

John Steinbeck, who writes novels and things, has compiled a list of those who could not enter the United States under its present laws. He says that it is not a joke and, of course, as it is published in the erudite "Saturday Review," it cannot possibly be a joke, but it does seem to be a futile occupation for so noble a mind. After all, every country determines who is to be admitted to it, just as every well-ordered household decides what kind of persons it wants to invite to dinner.

I shall take the first five names on Steinbeck's list as an example of his thinking and because the entire list would add nothing to the reader's knowledge, except perhaps to wonder at Steinbeck's logic:

"Name	Charge
ADAM	Morals
CAIN	Murder
NOAH	Alcoholism, cruelty to animals
SAUL	Assault with intent to kill
DAVID	Revolution"

Of course, John Steinbeck has a perfect right to understand the book of Genesis, in the Bible, as he chooses, in whatever language he has learned to read it. However, if he accepts the theories of the Hebrews on the subject of Adam, that progenitor of the human race bears no moral stigma, except the Fall which made us humans insteads of angels, seraphim and other disembodied spirits. So, Steinbeck's trouble is not that he does not understand a Semitic folk-tale, but its mystical meaning is beyond him altogether.

As for Cain, naturally we should keep him out. A man who kills his brother is undesirable in any society. Would Steinbeck have him admitted? Would he build an arch of triumph for him? I saw a preview of Leo McCarey's picture, "An Affair to Remember," and I could not help thinking that these are perfectly normal, healthy human beings—nothing dirty about a one of them. Does John Steinbeck object to such a picture? Must we welcome murderers to our company to please Steinbeck?

His next objectionable character is Noah, who built the Ark. The story of Noah is particularly significant in Hebrew folklore because it teaches respect for parents. Noah liked his wine and he lay asleep, uncovered and improperly exposed. Shem covered the shame of his father with respectful delicacy. Perhaps Steinbeck does not, in this age of sophisticated ignorance, grasp the beauty of this tale, or even know of it.

So we come to Saul, having skipped over many Biblical characters that Steinbeck might have used if he knew of them, for instance, Lot and his wife, and all the progenitors of the Semitic peoples who were polygamists and each had several wives which was not prohibited by local law or custom. Saul was a king at a time when kings ruled autocratically and when a king had power of life and death over his subjects. The Hebrews, however, had a control over the kings, namely that there were prophets, holy men who were regarded by the people as being the voice of God. Saul was bawled out by a prophet when his conduct became too oppressive. After all, if we admitted King Saud, a descendant of Ishmael, probably way back an Edomite, and housed him in Blair House as a guest of the nation, we would surely have admitted Saul. The precedents are against Steinbeck. Also we admitted Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, a descendant of David by way of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba.

Now, he objects to David as a revolutionist, which David was not at all because he was obeying the will of God, which cannot be said of Lenin or Trotsky who denied God. David killed Goliath and saved his people which was a very proper thing to do then as now. Thereupon David and the King's son, Jonathan, became pals. But it was the Lord's intent that David should rule and it is so clearly stated. And one reason was that David was a very holy man who wrote many psalms, some of which have come down to us to this day and which are read at all Jewish and Christian religious services.

It is perfectly clear that of John Steinbeck's first five, four could have come into the United States and would have been received either by President Eisenhower or John Foster Dulles. The fifth, who killed his brother, Steinbeck can keep for himself.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

LEARNING HOW TO DO NOTHING

I was most interested to read in a Toronto newspaper of classes (unique in Canada and probably on the continent, in which patients are taught to do absolutely nothing for an hour and a quarter during class and to repeat the process at regular intervals during the week. These classes are held by a physiotherapist who specializes in relaxation and the patients come on the recommendation of doctors. Though their symptoms are varied, they have one common cause—tension.

Most persons know they should relax. Some try but few make a direct frontal attack on the enemy. It takes some patients over two months to learn to relax but this is because they have been suffering from tension long enough to have produced physical ailments.

Miss Dorothy Madgett, the instructress, claims that complete relaxation is the only known safe substitute for the anesthetic properties of alcohol and believes that once it is properly learned, sedatives can be tossed in the wate basket and the wee nip reserved for less compulsory occasions. "When a person beomes irritated or worried, he becomes tense. What then happens to an alcoholic, he turns to alcohol. If he knew how to relax properly, he wouldn't need alcohol."

Patients practice relaxing lying down and sitting up and are taught to make it a part of their daily routine. Long-playing records are available to help them. Relaxing before going to sleep is actually more important than sleeping, they are told. "Even if you are tired enough to fall asleep immediately, it is better to keep yourself awake long enough to relax all the muscles properly first. Otherwise you may sleep but you will wake up still tense."

While most of her patients are women, she feels there is a great need for this type of treatment among men too and has treated with success men in various professions where tension is found. When they learned to relax, they found it made a real change in their lives. An example was a salesman to whom it was suggested that instead of sitting on the edge of his chair chain-smoking while waiting to see a buyer, a little relaxation might do more good. He protested that in his busines relaxation was contrary to all the rules of the game. Having learned her system, one of basic thought control, he was pleased to admit his error. Learning to relax, he found, left him in greater control of the situation when he did reach the inner sanctum and his sales ability rose as his ability to relax increased.

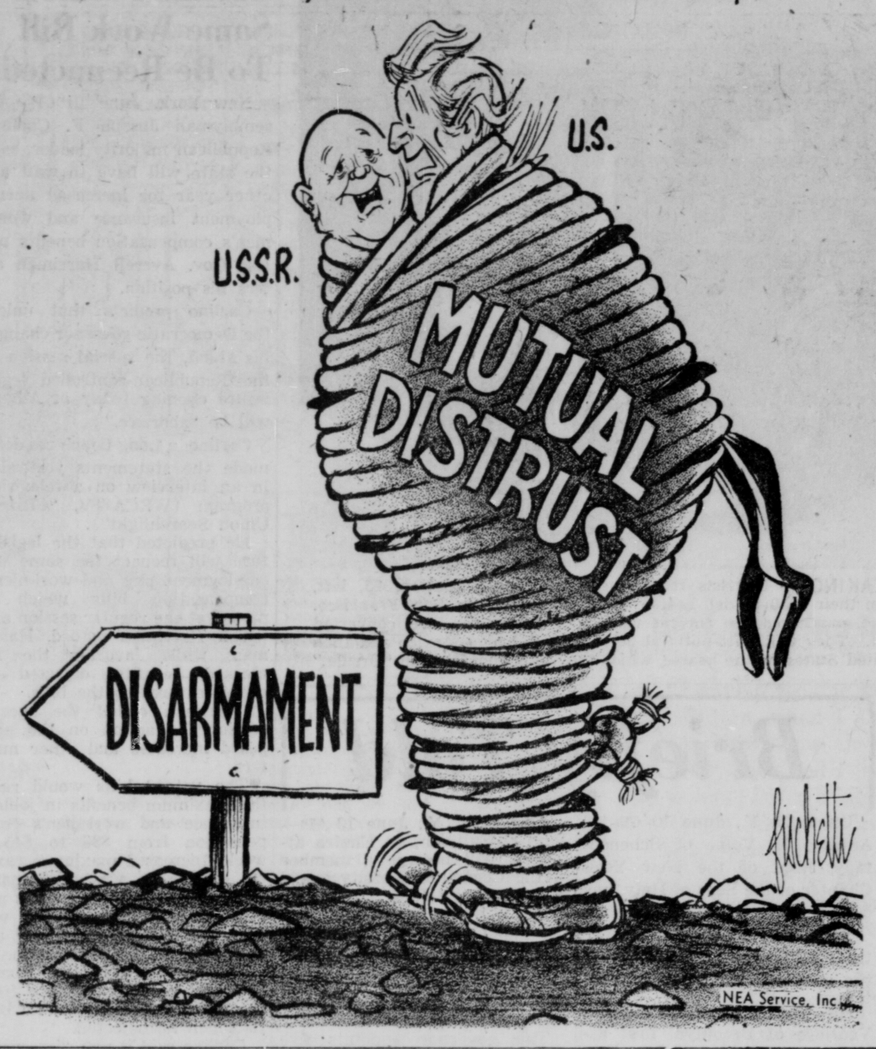

Miss Madgett teaches her patients to use tension-creating situations as alert signals for thought-controlled relaxation—the ringing of the telephone, stepping behind the wheel of a car, a red light at an intersection. People cannot run from every situation because it is a tension-creating one but they can learn to relax and live with almost every situation.

"All Ready for That First Small Step?"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — Soviet Russia is now conducting its most venomous propaganda attack and campaign of hate against the United States, in all parts of the world.

This stands out prominently in contrast to Communist Party Secretary General Nikita Khrushchev's expressed desire for friendship with the United States and the U. S. State Department's somewhat surprising "ready reception" of the Russian's bland assurances as a basis for future negotiations.

The U. S. Army court-martial acquittal of S. Sgt. Robert R. Reynolds after shooting a Formosan native prowler has given Communist propagandists an opening which they have been exploiting to the fullest.

HERE IS A TYPICAL Moscow commentary, broadcast in English to the United States:

"Anti-Americanism is expressed by the people of Asia in one phrase, 'Yankee! Go Home!' . . . The U. S. troops and advisers stationed in various parts of Asian countries have long since lost their fame as liberators and become despised occupiers.

"One of the best indications of this is the fact that the leading Asian countries are not affiliated with SEATO (South East Asia Treaty Organization). Only the puppet governments of less than 10 per cent of Asia's population belong.

"The mass of peoples recognize the aggressive character of this military alignment. . . . So it is easy to understand their indignation when they find the U. S. military standing in the way of their liberation — a military which not only tries to tell them how to live, but openly seeks to use them for cannon fodder."

THE MIDDLE EAST offers many another example of the real Voice of Moscow in action.

After exposure of the Soviet-Syrian-Egyptian conspiracy to overthrowing Hussein in Jordan, Moscow replied with a statement. Full blame for events in Jordan was placed on the United States.

Said a Tass dispatch:

"Each day reveals more facts showing that events in Jordan are the result of a conspiracy by the imperialists who . . . set themselves the task of . . . imposing a colonial yoke in the form of the notorious Dulles-Eisenhower doctrine.

"Only the blind can fail to see that behind the events in Jordan are the American oil magnates who, for the sake of plundering the natural resources of the Arab East, are making short work of the Arab patriots."

HERE ARE A FEW OTHER typical Tass distortions:

From Damascus—". . . talks are taking place in Jordan between King Hussein and a representative of the U. S. defense department on the leasing of a military base at Mafrak, formerly used by British troops."

From New Delhi—". . . the American military mission in Pakistan has recommended that a base for guided missiles be built in that part of Kashmir occupied by Pakistan."

Quoting the Cairo newspaper Al Akhbar, Tass reported—"The United States cannot evade responsibility for crimes and mass murder perpetrated against the peaceful population of Algeria."

In a Russian home service broadcast, the United States was blamed for the recent troubles in Haiti. Excerpt—"For many decades this small Negro republic has been the place of the cruelest colonial exploitation by the United States."

Moscow broadcast in Danish to Denmark—"Six years have now passed since the United States made Greenland a base for the Cold War against the U.S.S.R. and other socialist countries . . . In other words, Denmark has renounced her territorial sovereignty of Greenland . . . If the United States tomorrow were to launch an attack against the U.S.S.R. or occupy Denmark, Denmark could not resist."

The above are a few samples of the real voice of Moscow day after day. This is not what Khrushchev said over TV.

Letters to The Editor must bear the name of the writer. Communications must be limited to 300 words free of libel and personal attacks upon individuals as such. Only original communications addressed to The Freeman will be printed.

Editor, The Freeman:

Having read in the papers allegations that Mr. C. Henry Mayer, agent of the International Hodcarriers Union of Andes, N. Y., is affiliated with leftist groups sympathetic to communism, I would like to state this:

That I have known Mr. Mayer for about eight years and have talked with him many times about political and social issues. I do not believe that he has any sympathy with communism. While committed to the labor movement he believes that progress for them as well as for our country and the world must come through democratic and Christian processes.

Mr. Mayer is a good citizen, a good family man and a good neighbor. For some years Mrs. Mayer was pianist of our Presbyterian Church at Shavertown.

If you wish you can print this in the editor's column of your paper.

Thank you for your consideration.

Very truly yours,
THE REV. R. D. MAHAFFY
Minister, Downsville and Shavertown Presbyterian Parish.

Editor, The Freeman,

You are to be commended for your constant editorials on auto traffic safety.

We would like to point out that strict enforcement of traffic laws would probably cut traffic accidents by 50 per cent.

The State of New York itself must bear much of the responsibility for traffic fatalities, because the speed laws are not enforced.

Yours truly,
EARL H. GILCHRIST

Editor, The Freeman:

I am very much interested in the fight against polio so would like to know why do the residents of Ulster county have to pay for Salk vaccine for polio shots when other counties are distributing them free to their residents?

I know they are talking about an appropriation of $2,000 but how far will that go when the city and county are desperately in need of vaccine.

The summer boarders will soon be coming into the county for vacations and every year at this time we have a fresh outbreak of polio.

City and county clinics should be set up and distribution of vaccine be commenced as soon as possible.

I hope our Board of Supervisors will get busy and apply for state aid for polio vaccine.

Thank you.

H-Bomb Test Scare Called A Communist Conspiracy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 10—Will the Communists be successful in their conspiracy to scare America into halting tests of weapons vitally necessary for the protection and survival of the American people in a nuclear war?

The answer is that they will not succeed if President Eisenhower and the officials of the Atomic Energy Commission can have the help of loyal Americans in exposing and refusing to participate in the propaganda which Communist sympathizers, as well as their unwitting stooges here and abroad in the scientific world, have been stimulating now for more than three years.

Assured by Scientists

Over and over again, reputable scientists with access to all the official data and information derived from the tests and from authoritative reports on the 'fall out" have assured the American people that the risks involved are negligible compared to the knowledge gained to assure the defense against nuclear weapons of the enemy. But, despite this, the propaganda of confusion has persisted. Members of Congress and leaders of the British Parliament have denounced it as Communist propaganda.

President Eisenhower himself told his press conference last week that there are many honest people engaged in the controversy, but many of them "seem to be out of their own field of competence" and that it "looks almost like an organized affair." He said that he would rather accept the report of the National Academy of Sciences, "which has no ax to grind of any kind and is not looking for publicity." This report, after an exhaustive investigation, stated that the dangers of "fall-out" due to tests were not as much as from ordinary X-rays and such radioactivity as results from the sun's rays and other natural phenomena.

Red Tests Ignored

Attention has been called by high officials here and aboard to the fact that the agitation against nuclear tests grows vociferous only when the British and American engage in them and not when the Russians explode their test bombs.

The reading public as a whole doesn't know one scientist from another, and the newspapers, of course, have to print the news as it arises. Just the other day big headlines announced that 2,000 scientists had signed a petition against further tests, and a few days later Dr. Joel Hildebrand, professor emeritus of chemistry at the University of California and a past president of the American Chemical Society, said that not 1 per cent of those who had signed the petition has a specialist's knowledge of the subject.

Denounce Pauling

Last week Rep. Lawrence H. Smith, R., Wis., and Rep. Francis E. Walter, D., Pa, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, lashed out at Dr. Linus Pauling, head of the chemistry division of the California Institute of Technology, who announced the petition of the 2,000 scientists to the press.

Rep. Walter read into the proceedings of the House of Representatives data showing Dr. Pauling's relationships to petitions signed in behalf of a list of organizations alleged to be Communist fronts. Among them was a petition he signed in behalf of the Civil Rights Congress, which was cited by the Attorney General's office as "subversive" in December, 1947, and was included in the list issued by the Department of Justice as late as September, 1954. Rep. Smith also denounced Dr. Pauling's activities and made this statement:

"The Communist conspiracy is seeking to disarm America. By clever propaganda it is seeking to create a national hysteria so the people will demand that our H-bomb testing be stopped. The campaign is under way, and its objective is to spread fear among Americans and thus eventually disarm our country."

"Curious Collection"

In Britain the same thing is happening. Viscount Cherwell, a leading scientist who is a member of the British Atomic Energy Authority, said to Parliament recently:

"The ringleaders in this campaign (against British nuclear tests) are certainly a very curious collection. Oddly enough, none of them seems to worry very much about the Russian tests. These they seem to assume will do no damage to any one. It is the British tests they insist will poison the world."

Also Selwyn Lloyd, Britain's Foreign Secretary, in a nationwide broadcast in England a few weeks ago, said that "a great deal of the agitation against our tests does come from Communist sources which want to prevent Great Britain from emerging as a third nuclear power."

Truman's Warning

Former President Truman a few days ago said that the dangers from "fall out" tests involved "a small sacrifice" compared to the advantages, and added:

"We must not be panicked by the Soviet campaign of fear incitement either through threats of the use of the bomb or by their propaganda of the horrors of the 'fallout' intended primarily to cripple the defense efforts of the West."

... it might be asked, should it be assumed that President Eisenhower, former President Truman, the members of the United States Atomic Energy Commission and the outstanding scientists of the National Academy of Sciences are not as solicitous about guarding the future health of everybody's children, including their very own, against any harmful effects from the tests as are self-appointed spokesmen for all the scare stuff? Conceding that all of the critics are loyal in every sense, they have not given a logical or convincing answer to that question.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The charge against Dave Beck is "misappropriation" of money which, in legal theory, but never in practice, belongs to the faceless people who are the subjects of any such despot. By "misappropriation" we here mean theft, whether by embezzlement or whatsoever other technical specialty. But misappropriation is not necessarily larceny and the official conduct of Dave Dubinsky, the perpetual president-dictator of the Garment Workers' Union, is a flagrant case in point.

Dubinsky prints at the expense of his subjects a propaganda paper, devoted to self-laudation, socialism, the United Nations and an arbitrary political attitude on foreign affairs. It is called "Justice." Although he has an employe for the job of "editor," Leon Stein by name, the boss of Leon Stein, named in the masthead, is "David Dubinsky, president and general secretary-treasurer."

Like Dave Beck, Joe Curran of the National Maritime Union and other unblushing fakers of the union racket, Dubinsky relies on docile and stupid submission for his success in the misappropriation of union money for his own aggrandizement. It has been said that Dubinsky has never stolen a dollar. Having no knowledge of the facts, I waive the point, noting, however that even if true this would establish no special claim on our tolerence of known and professed activities which are offensive on other grounds. Hitler, Mussolini or Stalin never stole a dollar but, like Dubinsky, they exploited their powers to the denial of certain rights inherent in American citizenship. In passing, I may say that neither have I ever stolen a dollar but that I nevertheless accept full responsibility for all I do.

Until about five years ago, Dubinsky's approval of Dave Dubinsky was so rapturous that almost every issue of "Justice" looked as though it could have been turned out by some saboteur within his own household to make him look absurdly vain. There were photographs of Dave Dubinsky in all the standard activities and postures of the socialistic patron of the little people and the cut-lines were no less lavish than those which drenched Joe Curran in every number of The Pilot and Dan Tobin, the grand exalted fathead of the Teamsters, in his own joyous paean, published monthly in Indianapolis on slick paper, The International Teamster.

To the credit of the little people be it noted that, although they are voiceless to protest such vanity at their expense, there is no evidence that they believe this rubbish. Upon challenge in these epistles, Dubinsky and Curran both moderated their personal ballyhoo.

But, in "Justice" for March 1, this year, there appeared a spectacular specimen of the impudence here discussed. The item was an editorial entitled "Happy Birthday!" And, believe it or not, this brazen mountebank had this to say of himself in his own sheet:

"Close friends and associates of David Dubinsky last month celebrated his 65th birthday in the modest manner on which he insisted. Had their own wishes prevailed, the occasion would have been marked by the fanfare this chronological milestone in the life of a great American merits. Few men have been able to spead their own passion for democracy as effectively as David Dubinsky has done. Countless workers, here and abroad, who know him only as a name, are direct and indirect beneficiaries of his labors. We (that is Dubinsky, himself, as boss of his own publication) wish him continued good health, so that he may for many more years carry forward his crusades."

This is the very heart of Senator Barry Goldwater's crusade against the union racket's violations of the rights of workers. Dubinsky's shops are all closed shops and therefore every worker who may be impounded by collusion with a crooked employer or hounded into the garment workers by personal harassment is compelled to support both Dubinsky's political proects and his personal publicity. Both the projects and the personality easily might be repulsive to respectable Americans of good repute. Goldwater has little voice in the McClellan committee. With Joe McCarthy gone, his only Republican colleague of any competence is Karl Mundt, whose drowsy, listless participation tends to throw attention to the opportunists, McClellan and the Kennedy brats, Jack and Bobby.

The Democrats will not harm Dubinsky or Walter Reuther and the investigation, already showing signs of fakery, will result in something like Estes Kefauver's net achievement. Kefauver nailed Frank Costello for an outrageous term of five years, not for gambling or racketeering but for a highly questionable technical violation of the income tax.

Responsible to U. S.

New York, June 10 (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet (ret.) says American soldiers overseas should be subject only to U. S. military jurisdiction whether they are on or off duty. "Otherwise the soldier should not be sent overseas at all," he said.

Sentenced as Spy

Cairo, June 10 (AP)—An Egyptian court today sentenced one Egyptian to death for spying for Britain but postponed verdicts on four Britons and 11 other men until June 22. One court source said postponement of the other verdicts probably meant the court contemplated no other death sentences. The 16 defendants, along wth four other Britons who left the country before their arrests were ordered, are accused of spying for Britain to overthrow President Nasser's government.

Grace Period

Lebanon, Ky. (AP)—The judge asked the defendant why he didn't have a driver's license. "I haven't had time to get one since I got out of the army," the man replied. "When were you released," the judge asked. "In 1946." "Ten dollars and costs," said the judge.

—And, the Sink!

Dallas, June 10 (AP)—Burglars who broke into a vacant house owned by Cecil Adams, 65, not only took the kitchen sink along with other fixtures, but they kicked out a wall for good measure, Adams reported.

'Chicken!'

By FRANK TRIPP

If this will make just one boy stand up to the taunt "chicken," it will be worth while. That bit of kid vernacular has lured many a good boy into serious trouble; into delinquency.

It is the weapon of the bully, the gangster; the means by which he rules the weaklings, not the brave. By all that the ugly word is meant to imply, the lad who falls for it is the sucker of the pack.

Frank Tripp

The really brave, who will go places and become a real leader, is the boy who knows that "chicken" really means "sucker" — and does not fall for it.

He is a coward who cries "chicken" to wheedle another to his aid in some adventure, maybe only a prank at first; then on and on to dastardly deeds for which he needs a "goat"; ending often in crime—even murder.

If there were some way to wipe the term "chicken" out of the vocabulary of little children, far fewer would grow to believe it a word of derision.

* * *

NEIGHBORHOOD GANGS are recruited by means of this single word. Gang leaders keep their hold on their pack through fear of the word. It is magic to a boy who once falls for it.

He is in the clutches of evil influence. His sense of proportion is warped, his individuality is smothered, his will power wrecked through fear of being called "chicken." All because he yielded to it the first time.

His world is the gang; his master a cowardly bully whom he failed to stand up to, thus fears. He loses all sense of responsibility to law, neighbor, parent. All are "chickens" who are orderly, law-abiding people. All are his enemies and targets for his vandalism.

* * *

EVERY NEWSPAPER tells a fresh story of exasperating and criminal deeds by these victims of the term "chicken." And, under a silly law that protects and encourages them, even the neighbor next door does not know who they are until they reach 18. Now some sillier people want to baby them until they are 20. How senseless can people get? The law should be changed to 14, not upped to 20.

The law lets bullies cry "chicken" and recruit new delinquents to the day they are grown men. It fosters gangs and gangsters; statistics prove it. For every one salvaged, many outlaws are created through the immunity that they enjoy.

* * *

THE LAW and parents are the cradle of delinquency and gangsters in this land. Parents remote from the lives of their children; laws that set virtually grown men apart from those they harass; immune to public accountability for their acts. J. Edgar Hoover agrees that one of the greatest deterrents to crime is the fear of becoming known.

Add to these vicious influences the laws that prevent ambitious youngsters from earning their own spending money, as their father had to earn it. We find that do-gooders in outlawing "child labor" have gone so far in banning those worthy pursuits of restless, able kids, that once helped needful parents and taught children the value of money, as to create idle hours, shiftlessness and mischief in growing years that once taught thrift.

Give the teeners some sensible laws under which to mature a personal responsibility, stop coddling them as infants, and the adult-created problem will be half solved.

Don't blame the kids — just treat them as people.

A population expert predicts that by 1975 there will be 200,000,000 people in the United States and by the year 2000, 300,000,000!

This is the kind of perspective many investors need today.

Prices and values are key items in the security world; often prices confound the judgment of investors and long-range values are consequently neglected.

1975 is 18 years away. One of the best ways of charting what will happen during this period is to look back and see what has taken place since 1939. Thanks to a steady growth in population and a rising national standard of living, scores of leading corporations catering to the needs and wants of America's 170,000,000 people have done remarkably well.

Any investor in our country who has owned such stocks as General Motors, General Electric, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Standard Oil of New Jersey or American Telephone and Telegraph during the past 18 years has cause for rejoicing. A hundred other sound stocks could be added to this list of six.

Will these corporations do as well from now to 1975 as they have from 1939 to 1957? Yes, and probably better.

Values More Important

As I state in this column occasionally, prices are important in the investment world. But values are more important. And the kind of values conservative investors should buy are those that will endure into 1975 and 2000.

A few weeks ago a reader of this column who had $1,000 available for long-pull investment asked me about General Motors. It was selling at $40 a share. He haggled over the price. It had sold for $38½ a share and he thought it would go there again. Of course it may. But, as this is written, the stock is $43½ and he is getting restive. Prices often stymie decisions. They have in this case.

The year 2000 is 43 years away. Turn the clock back to 1914 and ask yourself this question: "What would have happened to $1,000 in savings if around that time I had bought some of the promising common stocks?"

Well, in most cases a fortune would have been made. The other day I talked with a young electronics engineer who at age 30 can save $2,000 a year. He asked me: "What should I do with this money?"

He has a growing family and needs insurance protection. I said to him: "For around $1,000 a year you can buy $50,000 of life insurance. Take on such a policy and leave the dividends with the company as a kind of cash reserve. And with the rest of the $2,000 buy common stock values that will grow with economic America into 1975 and 2000."

Sure Growth

If in the year 2000, America's population is only 250,000,000, the sure growth of the basic values that higher living standards and population increase will guarantee should heighten the perspective of millions of investors.

Looking into 1975 and 2000, what difference should it make to a stockholder whether he pays $40, $41 or $42 a share for a good stock like General Motors? Sure, it carries risk. All common stocks do. But right now when there are 170,000,000 people in America and this corporation's production and sales are the biggest in the world, where will this enterprise be in 1975 and in 2000?

And where will a hundred other leading corporations be? The long-pull view sets values in the correct perspective. Prices are important but nevertheless they are secondary.

(A) Set up a 10-year plan at your age. In a decade you will save $12,000. Carefully select three or four sound common stocks and systematically purchase them.

Opens New Office At Historic Site In Uptown Area

Roland A. Augustine, local insurance agent, has officially opened his new offices at 255 Wall street, it was learned today.

Mr. Augustine has purchased the building under contract and extensive improvements have been made to the structure which was originally built by Elias Hasbrouck in 1726. During the American Revolution the original building was burned by the British, in October of 1777, and later restored.

Branch Manager Too

At this new historic location, Mr. Augustine will continue the policy of selling all types of insurance . . . including automobile, life, casualty, burglary, fire and hospitalization. In addition, Roland A. Augustine has been named branch manager for Harold O'Connor, real estate, and the new offices at 255 Wall street will also serve as a branch office for the real estate firm.

A native of Albany, New York, Mr. Augustine came to Kingston in 1942 and for two years served as plant accountant for Electrol, Inc. of this city. In 1944 he entered the service and served with the 709th Tank Battalion in the European Theatre. Following his discharge, Mr. Augustine returned to Kingston where he entered the insurance field and, in March, 1954, opened his own offices at 68 Main street in Kingston.

Married to the former Elizabeth Perry of Kingston, Mr. Augustine is the father of two children, Johanna, 12, and Roland, 6.

$500 Verdict Given

A verdict of $500 for plaintiff was returned in county court in a contract action brought by Fred P. Heirsekon of Lake Katrine and others against Piney Point, Inc., an action involving a contract to erect a house. Robert A. MacKinnon appeared for plaintiff and Timmerman and Carlson for defendant.

Diamond Jim Brady, famous Broadwayite of the 1890's, was an ardent suitor of stage star Lillian Russell. He had candles especially fashioned in the likeness of Miss Russell to light his banquet tables.

New York, June 10 (AP)—The stock market declined sharply today in a heavy wave of selling on news that President Eisenhower had been stricken with an "upset stomach" and that heart and intestinal specialists were summoned.

Early this afternoon, however, some of the worst losses were trimmed as a recovery got under way.

Broadcaster Will Become Member Of Local Police

John Marquardt, of Hurley avenue, who has been a newscaster with Radio Station WKNY for several years, is due to become a special patrolman with the local police force June 16, Police Chief Raymond VanBuren said today.

The department, which has been using 10 or 11 special officers, the chief said, is now at least three men short, Officer Floyd LaFarge left the department a few months ago and two others, Carlo Perry and John Houghtaling quit within the past several weeks.

The new patrolman is a World War 2 veteran. He had served in the U. S. Army.

President Rene Coty of France holds no press conferences, but he received newspapermen along with his other visitors.

Nixon Favors Poland Gift, Avoiding All-Labor Blame

East Lansing, Mich., June 10 (AP) — Vice President Nixon describes economic aid to Poland as a "gamble worth taking." He also says corrective labor legislation "must not weaken or destroy unions."

Describing U. S. aid to Poland as a move to pit "the explosive power of freedom" against communism, Nixon defends the administration's agreeing to loan Poland 95 million dollars to buy U. S. farm products and mining equipment.

In supporting the action in a speech at Michigan State University commencement exercises yesterday the vice president also said that if labor legislation results from the Senate-rackets investigation Congress must avoid blaming "an entire movement for the blunders and crimes of a minority."

Nixon's stand on the loan to Poland opposes the views of Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California.

Knowland said recently such aid to Iron Curtain nations might launch what he called a "Communist Marshall Plan." He saw such aid as easing Russia's burden of supplying its satellites with food and goods. He said it would also tend to beef-up Communist regimes in the satellite nations.

"There is no question but that Poland is a Communist country," Nixon said. "But the Polish people have been displaying x x x determination to follow a course independent of the Soviet Union."

The administration is "under no illusions that our policy is certain to succeed," he told a Macklin Stadium audience of 25,000 persons.

Nixon said the Poles and their government still might be forced into complete subservience to the Soviet Union.

Gamble Worth Taking

"But certainly here is a gamble worth taking," he added. "x x x by our action we will be announcing to the world that we are not writing off the Polish people or any of the other millions who are held in bondage behind the Iron Curtain."

Turning to labor, Nixon said the congressional committee is doing a good job in exposing activities of union officials "who broke faith with their union membership." The more difficult question," he said is just what legislation should result.

Period of Trial

As the vice president saw it, "organized labor is going through a period of trial comparable to that endured by the business community 20 years ago. . . . Some union leaders have been shown to have failed badly in their positions of trust."

"But we should not repeat the mistake of 20 years ago and blame an entire movement for the blunders and crimes of a minority," he continued. "Rather we should help outraged union members to restore honesty and integrity to their unions."

A. H. Wicks Vols List Committee For Block Party

An activity committee to formulate plans for the annual block party of A. H. Wicks Engine and Truck Company usually held in July was appointed at the regular meeting held recently at the company rooms.

The committee includes Donald Remus, chairman; Raymond Long, John Cook, Alderman William Davis, Raymond Whitbeck, Howard Stephens and Richard Riseley.

Welcome New Vols

Four new members were welcomed into the company. They are Robert Smith, William Cragan, Burdette Hart and William Godwin.

President C. John Bechtold announced that a bus will be chartered to transport members to Beacon for the Hudson Valley Firemen's parade June 22. The bus will leave the fire station at 12:30 p. m. In regard to the parade he announced that members who have not received uniforms may pick them up at the fire station any evening prior to June 15.

During the report of officers Captain Remus reported that the company had responded to 18 fires during May, making a total of 83 for 1957.

Due to the conflict of July 4 the next meeting will be rescheduled for June 27.

Refreshments were served following the business.

Call in Advance

It was suggested that any member planning to attend a directors meeting for the purpose of discussing a specific topic should call the Chamber of Commerce office in advance of the meeting. This would make it possible to have the file of information on that subject on hand or have the chairman present handling that particular subject.

All regular meetings of the board of directors are held on the second Tuesday of each month. It has been customary during recent years to cancel the July and August meetings and have the executive committee conduct the routine affairs. If any major situations arise a special meeting of the board would be called.

Wharton Says U. S. Reclamation Costs Hit State

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton (Rep.) of the 29th Congressional District, embracing this area, scored the country's reclamation and natural resource expenditures on the CBS television panel, "Congressional Closeups" Saturday night.

A ranking member of the House interior committee, he said that New York State in the past has borne upwards of 15 per cent of the reclamation and natural resource costs of the nation and he indicated that many feel the time has arrived to put the program on a sound business basis.

Encourage Agreement

Under recent legislation the western states and local municipalities are encouraged to enter into so-called partnership agreements whereby a portion of the cost is assumed at home. Much of the west has become wealthy and industrially important during the past 50 years so that the program instituted by President Theodore Roosevelt for the west has become somewhat outdated, he said.

He predicted that few if any new projects will be approved this year.

The issues of public power and unequal taxation on numerous federal projects has little appeal in other sections of the country and the recent average of 1½ per cent of the federal budget for such purpose is not likely to be increased in the 85th Congress.

Vaccine Aide Is Suicide, Victim Of Hip Disease

Pittsburgh, June 10 (AP)—Maj. Bryon L. Bennett, 49, a man little known to the public but who played a large part in developing the Salk anti-polio vaccine, shot himself to death yesterday.

Friends said Bennett, who had suffered from a long and painful hip disease which had greatly curtailed his activities, was despondent.

The Allegheny county (Pittsburgh) Coroner's office listed his death as suicide.

Maj. Bennett, a retired army scientist, was an authority on tropical medicine and polio immunization. Dr. Jonas Salk, discoverer of the vaccine bearing his name, said Bennett's contribution "made quietly but steadfastly, and his incomparable loyalty made possible much of the work of our team."

The scientist came to the University of Pittsburgh in 1947 upon retiring from the army. With Dr. Salk he began the work of typing polio viruses and he was associated with the preparation and testing of the first Salk vaccine on humans.

A native of Mt. Vernon, Tex., Maj. Bennett became associated with the Harvard Medical School in 1928. He was a member of medical research expeditions to Yucatan, Guatemala and Africa before joining the army in 1941.

Judicial Victim

Tacoma, Wash. (AP) — Police here don't blame the judge for the grudge. A check for $192 and a few odd cents turned up at a bank. The bank found the man's account low, called him and discovered the check was forged. "I'll show this man my signature in its finest form, when you catch him," said Presiding Judge John D. Cochran. The check had been drawn by "John D. Cochran."

JAY ROBIN GNESSIN

Young Jay Robin Gnessin is a lad who believes in following in his dad's footsteps. Jay's father David Gnessin, who is on the technical staff at IBM, is a prolific technical writer and a veteran radio-TV service technician.

Jay, a senior in advanced industrial electronics at Kingston High School, learned radio and TV repair by working in his father's store when the family lived in Columbus, Ohio, Asbury Park, and Point Pleasant, N. J. Now he does servicing for neighbors and friends.

This month he took another step in following dad's career when he had an article published in the June issue of Radio-Electronics, a technical magazine for hi-fi and TV-radio technicians, and other experimenters interested in electronics.

The article "Selenium Diode Voltage Regulators" suggests an interesting application of rectifiers for electronic experimenters. Althought this is Jay's first article published in the magazine, his father has contributed to it many times—most recently in the February issue.

Jay expects to emulate his dad in another respect this June. After graduation, he plans to work with the training group at IBM-Kingston.

He's like a chip off the old block too, in his varied civic and social activities. He's an excellent swimmer, active in Civil Defense, a member of the Civilian Air Patrol, and an amateur radio operator. He is an active member of Ahavath Israel Congregation in Kingston.

Mettacahonts

A ham supper will be served by the Sunday school of the Reformed Church Friday, June 14 in the meeting room of the church.

12 Die from Food

La Plata, Argentina, June 10 (AP)—Food poisoning has killed 12 persons in La Plata. Health authorities are inoculating hundreds of others with a sizable percentage of the world's supply of an antitoxin. Fifty persons are hospitalized—many of them in iron lungs—as a result of the poisoning attributed to spoiled pimientos served in a La Plata restaurant. The poisoning, botulism, is a severe and frequently fatal ailment caused by the action of bacteria on certain foods, often because they are improperly canned or preserved. It is now rare in the United States and Europe, and the antitoxin to treat it consequently is in short supply.

Backyard Surprise

New York, June 10 (AP)—A Brooklyn housewife glanced out her window yesterday and was astonished to see a four-foot lizard munching on bits of bread left in the backyard for the birds. Mrs. Dorothy Jannotte's cry aroused her husband, Salvatore. He ran to the cellar for a crab net. The lizard, black with white stripes was taken to a shelter operated by the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to await claiming by its owner. Police said the reptile may be a refugee from a Pet shop. An ASPCA agent was unable to identify it.

Score Policy

Monticello, June 10 (AP)—A congressman and an Israeli consul criticized U. S. Middle East policy yesterday at the annual meeting of B'nai Zion. Rep. Abraham J. Multer (D.-N. Y.) told the National Zionist Fraternal Organization that the United States is "losing another opportunity for peace by failure . . . to demand that the Arabs make peace with Israel." Max Varon, Israeli consul in New York, said "the leading democracies must guide the pro-western rulers (in the Middle East) to a peaceful coexistence with Israel."

Hoover Blueprint Could Save Billion This Year

(This is the third of four articles prepared by the Upstate New York Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, covering the current status of findings and recommendations of the bipartisan second Hoover Commission in the fields of federal government operation. The Commission estimates if the 314 recommendations are put into effect, it wold result in a minimum of $5 billion annual savings to American taxpayers.)

The blueprint for cutting more than a billion dollars from the federal budget—equal to a stack of $1,000 bills almost as high as the Empire State Building—without impairing a single vital federal operation, is ready and waiting for Congress to take advantage of it.

The suggestions, all part of the recommendations of the Second Hoover Commission, cover a wide range of federal agency activities which would be curtailed or placed on a paying basis.

MAY BE ENVOY — H. Freeman Matthews, a career diplomat of 34 years' service, is reported being considered by President Eisenhower for the post of ambassador to Austria. He would succeed Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., approved by the Senate as envoy to Russia.

And they do not include the important Recommendation Number 7 which would revise the method of budget appropriations so that federal agencies would be on an annual accrued budget. Passage of this provision alone could amount to savings of up to $5 billion in the course of several years.

Economy Plan

A tremendous economy could be realized by (1) terminating the program of loans for college housing; (2) integrating military supply programs in a Defense supply and service administration, directly under the Secretary of Defense; (3) enabling career civilians with a high degree of specialized training to take over management positions in the Department of Defense now held by military personnel who are excessively rotated; (4) Tightening administration of medical-care programs for veterans with non-service-connected ailments.

The college housing program was begun at a time when financing from private lenders was not readily available. By terminating the program now that cash is available for these colleges it means an estimated $146,910,000 could be saved.

The second program, to integrate the military supply programs, would mean that the armed forces, which have failed to carry out repeated Congressional mandates toward this end, would be under one supply administration. A tremendous quarter-billion dollar savings is estimated.

The third program, for civilian specialists in top military management posts, would save Uncle Sam $160,000,000 in 1958.

And the fourth item, which would relieve Uncle Sam of the responsibility of medical care for veterans with non-service-connected ailments who are able to pay for treatment, would save $100,000,000 each year. This would not affect Veterans Administration aid for veterans who cannot afford medical attention or for those with service connected illness or injuries.

Other Suggestions

Other suggestions include elimination of additional government businesses in unfair competition with private enterprise —$75,000,000 savings; new rating systems and personal procedures which would halt the 25 per cent yearly turnover of federal employes—$50,000,000 savings; requiring the Tennessee Valley Authority to stop construction of steam plants, $30,000,000 savings.

These and other Hoover recommendations could bring the budget under the $70,000,000 mark if approved in time for action during 1958.

Citizen Action Necessary

However, vested interests and political considerations may mean defeat for any or a great majority of these measures, unless vigorous citizen action is forthcoming. A large share of credit for adoption of 39 per cent commission recommendations in 1955 and 1956 goes to the millions of alert citizens who indicated their interest in efficient, economical government by writing their congressmen and urging passage of commission suggestions.

The same type of citizen participation is essential if savings are to be realized during the 1957-58 period.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The readers of this column are cordially invited by Ruth Howland Deyo, who writes a "Do You Remember" column for the Morehead City paper of North Carolina to their Morehead City Centennial Jubilee (1857-1957) August 4 through 10.

Ruth married Percy Deyo a local boy and lived in Kingston before they both moved back to her hometown down south.

So if any folks travelling down around that way during that week in August they will be most welcome. Her inviation reads in part: "We take great pleasure in inviting you all to our 100th birthday party, August 4 through August 10.

"The first train rolled into Morehead City, N. C. in July 1857. Lots were sold at public auction and people began coming. They came by train, by boat, in buggies and wagons — following dirt and uncharted roads. They came walking down the railroad tracks, families and singly, with their worldly possessions on their back.

"These hardy folk waded through sand and sandspurs; cleared away gnarled and twisted yaupon and wind-stunted cedars. They built their houses of pitch pine and oak. . . . Because of the interest, support and faith of John Motley Morehead, the new town was given his name, Morehead City."

The item further reads: "A Mayor and three Commissioners were appointed in February, 1861, and one of the first laws they made was the "Fence Law." This law proclaimed that all cattle and hogs were to be moved and pastured outside of the town. A fence was built to keep livestock out of town.

A fine was imposed on anyone leaving the town fence gate open. The informer was given the fine."

"Three places of business that dealt with our natural resources —fish and shell fish . . . became our first industries. The fish industry has been built up in the ensuing years to the present tremendous commercial enterprize that it is today. In the beginning . . . fish were caught by local fishermen in nets, in their sailing and other small boats. Ice was brought into port here on three-masted sailing ships. This ice was used to pack the fish for their shipments to northern markets.

"Now . . . fish factories operate for nine months of the year. Boats that bring in these fish are large trawlers, with all kinds of modern devices. They even have an airplane flying over them, directing them to the fish, instead of the old method of a man in the crows nest calling that he had sighted fish. These boats are also called "pogey" boats.

"Nature provided us with a natural harbor . . . full rigged ships from Norway put in here with steel, to be used for rails for our railroads. Ice was brought from Maine, and cotton was exported from here.

"Our present Port Terminal has the distinction of being one of the great Atlantic seaports. Our port facilities lie only 45 minutes from the sea lanes."

"Just a word about the celebration, there will be a jubilee parade, a water parade at night, decorated with flags flying in the wind. A historical pageant at Fort Macon the State Park will be given. A giant fish fry, and a magnificent ball, with big name band is scheduled for the end of the week. You can swim at the fine white sand beach that is not surpassed anywhere for its safety and beauty. You can go deep sea or local fishing. There are marshes abounding with water birds and a string of picturesque fishing villages.

To add to all this, will be the warm hospitality of the place that I heard so much about from those who have visited Morehead City, N. C.

Cragsmoor Playhouse Company Announced

Elaine Perry and Irl Mowery, producers of the Cragsmoor Playhouse in Cragsmoor, have signed Dinnie Smith, Gaylord Mason, Eugene Marner and Kenneth Smith to return as members of their company this summer. The 10-week season will open June 26 with the production of the comedy hit, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?"

Miss Smith was featured in "Late Love," the opening production of Miss Perry and Mr. Mowery's first Cragsmoor season in 1955. She will be remembered for her performance as the actor's wife in "The Country Girl," the talkative patient in "Oh, Men, Oh, Women!" and, probably most memorably, as the frustrated school teacher in "Picnic." On Broadway and tour she appeared in "New Faces of 1942."

Mr. Mason recently finished a season's run in the Broadway production of "Uncle Willie," which starred Menasha Skulnik. At Cragsmoor he was seen last year as the egotistical actor in "Oh, Men, Oh, Women!" the cowboy's friend in "Bus Stop," and, unforgettably, the victim of "The Seven Year Itch."

His other Broadway appearances include "The American Way" with Fredric March, "Harriet" with Helen Hayes, "Kiss and Tell," "Theatre" with Cornelia Otis Skinner, and "The Hasty Heart."

Mr. Marner will be stage manager for the forthcoming season. Last season at Cragsmoor he appeared as Petrovin, the artist, in "Anastasia."

Kenneth Smith will return for his second season as technical director. A graduate of the University of Michigan, he has worked at the Cain Park Musical Theater and the Great Lakes Drama Festival.

At the Ann Arbor Drama Festival he appeared with Helen Hayes in "Gentlemen, The Queen." Last season Mr. Smith scored a personal success as Dr. Brubaker in "The Seven Year Itch."

Making their initial appearances this season on the Cragsmoor stage will be Yvonne Clifford, Sefton Darr, Mary Farrell, Robert Minford, Walter Carlin, Arthur Gorton, Ray Gandolf and Bill Steeele. In "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" Miss Clifford will play the movie star, a role for which Marilyn Monroe was the model. Miss Darr will make her first appearance in the exacting title role in "Witness For The Prosecution," the second play on the Cragsmoor schedule.

The Cragsmoor Restaurant and Bar, operated in conjunction with the Playhouse, reopens June 21, with Marco Carson returning as gourment chef. Mr. Carson was formerly food editor for Harper's Bazaar.

Miss Perry and Mr. Mowery, entering their third season as managers at Cragsmoor, have both Broadway and national experience as producers. Miss Perry was producer of the Broadway hits, "King of Hearts" and "Anastasia." Mr. Mowery presented "Lullaby," in which Mary Boland appeared at the Lyceum Theatre in New York.

Ten Broadway hits will be presented, from June 26 through Labor Day, Sept. 2. Performances will be given Wednesday through Monday at 8:15 p. m., with a popular-priced matinee Sunday at 3 p. m. There will be a new ticket price for Friday evening performances. Theatre parties are being booked through Mrs. Lillian Nath of Cragsmoor. The playhouse box-office will open June 18.

Corruption and Disloyalty in High Places Shake Confidence, Dewey Tells Graduates

(By The Associated Press)

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, proposing permanent status for America's foreign aid program, says victory in the cold war with Russia would be preferable to victory in the "planetary shambles of a nuclear war."

At the same time, Dewey told graduates at the University of Rochester yesterday that Americans must maintain and insist upon a steadfast devotion to high moral standards in their own government regardless of standards in other countries.

"If either corruption or disloyalty appear in high places," he said, "they shake our own confidence in free government and the shattering influence of that weakness goes around the world."

At Hamilton College, meanwhile, U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. said nuclear progress had made world peace "a practical necessity" and "not merely a humanitarian ideal."

Big Obligation

Brownell told 158 graduates they had an "extraordinary obligation" to help bring about "complete understanding of the need for a system of laws to regulate the conduct of nations. . ."

Cornell University awarded degrees to 1,358 undergraduates today at its 89th commencement. Deane W. Amlott, president of the university, delivered the commencement address.

In another commencement address yesterday, Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said at Clarkson College in Potsdam that he did not believe Soviet communism would survive because it was not based upon law with a moral foundation as is the United States. Clarkson graduated 181 seniors.

Dangerous Lack of Balance

Dr. Carroll Vincent Newsom, president of New York University, told 94 graduates at Hartwick College, Oneonta, that "a dangerous lack of balance" in American culture was being produced by concentration on technical education.

He urged better utilization of human resources, including guidance of capable youth who "lack . . . personal motivation" for seeking higher education.

Seventy-seven graduates of Harpur College heard Dr. Herold C. Hunt, former secretary of health, education and welfare, urge that the State University be strengthened.

"Equalization of education opportunity is a mandate that the state must assume," he said.

Skidmore College conferred 193 bachelor degrees and awarded 10 certificates to students from foreign countries.

Henry T. Moore, retiring president of the woman's college, conferred an honorary degree of master of letters on his wife, Mrs. Marie Blain Moore. The ciation, by the Skidmore board of trustees, said Mrs. Moore's life "has defined better than words the true meaning of a liberal arts education."

CHILD OPENS CAGE DOOR

Dear Mrs. Post: Some friends of ours recently went on a vacation. They were gone three weeks. Before they left, the wife asked me if I would take care of their parakeet while they were away. I said I would. One day my young daughter opened the cage while I was in another part of the house and the bird flew through an open window. We looked all over but couldn't find it. I feel terrible and I would like to know what, if anything, I am supposed to do about this. Am I obliged to replace it?

Answer: The loss of the parakeet is your responsibility even though it was due to your child's thoughtlessness and I think you must try to replace it.

Flowers to Mother and New Father-in-Law

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother-in-law, after being a widow for many years, remarried two years ago. They will be celebrating their anniversary soon and we would like to send them flowers on this occasion. My husband thought it would be a nice gesture to send them to "Mom and Pop." Because they live in another state we see them only occasionally and when we do see them we call my mother-in-law's husband by first name. It is for this reason that I feel sending the flowers to Mom and Pop would not be proper. Your opinion will be appreciated.

Answer: In the situation you describe, I suggest sending the flowers to "Mom and Jim."

Earrings With Academic Gowns

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been elected to write to you on behalf of our June graduating class as to whether or not it is proper for the girls to wear earrings with their academic gowns. We stand divided on this question and are anxiously awaiting your decision.

Answer: If the earrings are small button ones they would be all right; but long dangling ones would not.

U. S. Post Office Has Drive on Now In Medical Frauds

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk today urged residents of the city to report promptly to their post office any instances of medical frauds involving use of the mails, or offensive advertising material involving apparent medical quackery that enters their homes.

His suggestion, he said, was prompted by latest reports he has received from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Chief Inspector David H. Stephens that use of the mails for medical quackery is at an all time high.

The local post office, Mr. Newkirk explained, under instructions from the postal inspection service, turns complaints of medical fraud, as well as other complaints of other types of mail fraud—which are also welcomed—over to postal inspectors for prompt investigation.

$50 Million Loss

Postal inspectors, to date this year, have prepared cases for consideration by the department's general counsel which, conservatively, represent an annual loss to the public of $50 million, he said.

Under Federal statutes, postal inspectors are charged with investigating any fraudulent activity in which the U. S. mails are used. The most prominent fraudulent activity conducted through the mails today is in the field of fake medical cures, he noted.

"Mr. Summerfield has reported the promoters and quacks are so persistent that a unit of inspector specialists is maintained in Washington, D. C., to coordinate investigations of these rackets," Mr. Newkirk noted.

Tests Made

In addition to complaints, Mr. Newkirk said, inspectors take materials offered and submit them for extensive examination by medical and chemical experts, he said.

They make tests and examinations to determine whether medical materials and devices offered through the mails are misrepresented.

In the past 12 months, 46 fraud orders have been issued in medical fraud cases, it was reported.

"However," Mr. Summerfield said, "rather than attempt to defend the indefensible, 106 persons or firms signed stipulations agreeing to discontinue their questionable enterprise. These phony schemes altogether were known to be taking in at least $225,000 daily. Is it any wonder new frauds spring up every day?"

Most Common Frauds

Some of the medical frauds most common today, in order of popularity, are "dietless" reducing schemes, "sure cures" for cancer, arthritis, skin trouble, baldness and "lost manhood." Bust development gimmicks are also on the best-seller lists, it was reported.

In recent years, the style in cancer cures has been in devices that allegedly contain "atomic" material or that are "electronic."

Usually these will be sold for hundreds of dollars, and will consist of impressive claptrap devices, such as flashing light bulbs, ticks and buzzes. Other styles in "atomic" medicines call for vials of water, olive oil, etc., supposed to contain atomic "curatives."

These are often offered for arthritis, rheumatism and for many other afflictions.

"Unfortunately," Chief Inspector Stephens notes, "the prosecution of the ghouls who trade on hopes of the desperately-ill often can not be successfully prosecuted because the patients who are the chief witnesses die before the case is called up in court."

Pick Reducing Schemes

Reducing schemes are perhaps the most lucrative of medical frauds today. Products are sold at high prices through representations making outlandish claims of weight reducing. Material that swells in the stomach, medicated chewing gum, or pills are offered with the implication that proper diet, the only known remedy, is unnecessary. The pills offered in a current promotion are guaranteed to curb the appetite. Massive doses of the pills given in tests have had no reaction whatsoever. Nonetheless, a gullible public buys them in quantity.

Several weight reducing promotions currently under investigation are grossing between $2 million and $3 million a year.

In addition to the actual loss involved in medical frauds, and the untimely deaths of persons with serious illness who pinned their hopes on useless quackery, Postmaster General Summerfield pointed out that the medical quacks are flooding homes and offices with offensive advertising relating to their products.

Department Limited

First class letters under seal are not subject to postal inspection and the Post Office Department is limited in what it can do to prevent such mail going into homes, until the mail quacks are discovered and put out of business, Mr. Summerfield pointed out.

"However," he added, "the citizen can help protect himself and others by reporting suspected mail frauds and turning the matter received in the mails over to the postmaster or postal inspector. Such reports are welcome and are promptly investigated.

Proposal Is Made On Pension Hikes For Policemen

Peter Keresman, of Kingston, executive secretary of the New York State Police Conference, has proposed a state constitutional provision which would permit municipalities to increase pension benefits for policemen.

Mr. Keresman's proposal was made last week at a hearing of the Temporary State Commission on the Constitutional Convention held in the Senate chambers at the state capitol, Albany.

He told Nelson Rockefeller, who presided at the hearing, that the decreased value of the dollar had sharply reduced pension payments to older men.

Mr. Keresman proposed that municipalities be permitted to increase pension benefits payable to retired policemen, their widows, or dependent children.

Also attending the session were Charles Poletti, vice-chairman of the commission, Donald H. Mead, secretary, with commission members Sidney H. Asch, Abrham D. Beame, Adolf A. Berle Jr., Francis Bergman, Joseph P. Carlino, T. Norman Hurd, Reuben A. Lazarus, Reid S. Moule, William J. O'Shea, Alfred L. Rose, Charles H. Tuttle and Charles Ray Wilson.

2 Die in River

Kansas City, June 10 (AP)—The flooding Verdigris river in southeast Kansas washed away part of a bridge near Coffeyville last night and swept two men to their deaths. At least four tornado funnels danced along a squall line of severe thunderstorms which stretched across Kansas from southwest to northeast. None of the twisters caused trouble but police reported a windstorm caused "considerable damage" at Russell, in central Kansas. No injuries were reported.

Partners in Crime

Fayetteville, W. Va. (AP) — Charles Levesay, charged with threatening to shoot his wife, was joined in jail by Wolfe Alfonsa, accused of stealing the gun Levesay allegedly used in the threat. The weapon was one of four taken from Levesay's home.

Rain Continues But Plains Area Storms Abating

(By The Associated Press)

Stormy weather which hit the plains states and in the southeastern section of the country appeared abating today, but more rain fell in most of the area.

At least four persons drowned in the stormy weather which hit wide areas yesterday. Two drowned in a tropical storm that swept across Florida from St. Petersburg on the Gulf of Mexico to the Georgia line.

Some 200 families were evacuated from their homes at Perry, Fla., about 50 miles southeast of Tallahassee, which was hardest hit as the storm cut across the state and headed out to sea near Charleston, S. C. More than 11 inches of rain drenched Perry, a town of 3,000.

Bridge Collapses, 2 Dead

Two other persons drowned in Coffeyville, Kan., as a bridge across the flooding Verdigris river collapsed.

Tornadoes and severe thunderstorms struck across broad areas in sections of Kansas, Oklahoma and South Dakota. No casualties were reported. Funnel clouds also were reported in parts of Arkansas and along the eastern slopes of the central Rockies.

Thunderstorms and showers were indicated during the day from the central and southern plains eastward through the middle and lower Mississippi valley, the Ohio valley and the southeastern states.

Showers also were forecast in parts of the northern Great Lakes region westward through the northern plains.

Outlook Generally Fair

Generally fair weather was the outlook in New England and the Middle Atlantic coast states and in the Pacific northwest.

Rain in the great basin area and in parts of the northern Rockies brought cooler weather. Temperatures were 15 to 20 degrees lower than yesterday morning in most of Nevada. Readings were generally in the 40s and 50s from the great basin region northeastward through the northern plains.

Temperatures also were in the 40s and 50s in most of New England and elsewhere were in the 60s and 70s with some 80s being reported in southern Texas and the southwest desert region.

Some early morning reports: New York 60 and clear; Chicago 63 and clear; Atlanta 64 and cloudy; Miami 78 and partly cloudy; Dallas 80 and clear; Denver 63 and clear; Minot, N. D., 42 and cloudy; Salt Lake City 59 and cloudy; Phoenix 83 and cloudy; Los Angeles 61 and rain; San Francisco 55 and clear; Seattle 59 and clear; Springfield, Ill., 71 and cloudy.

Judges Are Named For Saugerties July 4th Parade

Four couples have been selected by the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce to judge the July Fourth parade competition in Saugerties.

They are: Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fite of High Woods; Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Saxe of Kiskatom and Mr. and Mrs. Bart Jordano of Poughkeepsie.

Assemble at Barclay Heights

Judging of the floats will begin at 8:30 at the assembly point of the parade at Barclay Heights. All entrants are reminded that their floats must be in the parade assembly position by 8:30 a. m. to be eligible for an award.

Judging of the marching units will be made as each unit passes the reviewing stand located at the balcony of the Exchange Hotel on Main street.

In addition to the parade the Jaycees' Fourth of July program will include two baseball games in the afternoon at Cantine Memorial Field.

One game will feature the Saugerties Dutchmen and Poughkeepsie Elks.

In the evening a giant fireworks display will be offered at Cantine field.

Area Methodist Pastor Receives Divinity Degree

The Rev. Richard R. Guice of Ashokan received the Bachelor of Divinity degree last week at Drew University's 90th commencement.

President Fred G. Holloway conferred degrees on 80 graduates of the institution's Theological School.

Mr. Guice's three-year professional divinity course at Drew was preceded by undergraduate study at West Virginia Wesleyan College in Buckhannon, which granted him the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1954.

He is pastor of the Ashokan, Glenford and West Hurley Methodist Churches.

Track Washed Out

Miami, Okla., June 10 (AP)—An unofficial five inches of rain 10 miles southeast of Miami washed out a 30-foot section of track and a Frisco passenger train was derailed yesterday. No serious injuries resulted. Ten cars and the engine of the "Texas Special" went off the rails. The wreckage tore up 1,000 feet of track.

Snake-Bite Victim Leaves Hospital

Donald White of Quarryville, an employe of the Town of Saugerties Highway Department, who was bitten by a rattlesnake on Friday while working on the High Woods road at Mt. Marion, was discharged from the Kingston Hospital Sunday.

White was bitten by one of two rattlers, the one which bit him escaped but the other one was killed by Mr. White. Treated by Dr. Herman Ash of Saugerties, White was brought to Kingston Hospital and treated for snake bite.

Hu Feng Released

Hong Kong, June 10 (AP)—The French News Agency reported from Peiping today that Hu Feng, a leading writer the Chinese Communists jailed as a spy two years ago, has now been released. Hu, a former Communist, was purged from his party positions and then imprisoned on charges of spying for Chiang Kai-shek. Most foreign observers felt his conviction was a blunt Communist warning to intellectuals to fall into line with government policy.

Two Lost in Boating Mishap

Dahlgren, Va., June 10 (AP)—Virginia's worst boating accident of the year claimed the lives of two men, a woman and a small boy yesterday in a portion of a creek where the water was only eight feet deep.

The accident happened about 4 p. m. while 11 members of a family fishing expedition were heading for shore in a 20-foot houseboat to escape worsening weather which had made the water choppy.

The boat was within 200 yards of the beach when Joe Miller, 8, stumbled over a railing on the boat and tumbled into Machadoc Creek.

In quick succession, the child's father, Melvin Miller, 32, Miller's sister, Mrs. Pauline Houchins, 35, and her husband, Wayne Ralph Houchins, 40, leaped to the rescue.

All drowned while relatives on the boat, including Miller's wife and their other three children, threw out life preservers and pleaded with those in the water to grasp them.

Sir Winston Churchill once described Soviet Russia as "a riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma."

Husband (to wife who was driving and started to cross the railroad tracks)—Stop! Stop!

Deaf to his cries, the woman drove on—right into the path of a train that had just come around the bend.

Husband and wife leaped to safety, but the car was completely demolished. The shaken woman sat up and surveyed the wreckage. She turned to her husband.

Wife (weakly)—It's all your fault. If you hadn't told me to stop, I would have.

An observer tells of standing in Hyde Park in London one day, listening to a Communist orator, who'd drawn quite a crowd about him. His speech was pretty fiery, and ended with a farily radical proposal — that his audience should advance with him and burn down Buckingham Palace, then and there. At this point a bobby, who had been standing impassively near by, seemed to feel that matters had gone about as far as they should, and he interrupted, addressing the crowd in a commanding voice.

"Them as is going to burn Buckingham Palace," he ordered, "three paces to the left! Them as is not going to burn Buckingham Palace, three paces to the right!" At this the crowd shuffingly dispersed to the right!

Worn, haggard, the half-frozen trapper staggered into the blizzard-enveloped trading post and said to the proprietor,

Trapper—Grub! Anything!

Proprietor—Pete! What happened out there in the wilds?

Trapper—My sled dogs kept dyin' along the trail 'til only the leader was left. That big brute kept eyein' me hungry-like—and I kept eyein' him the same way.

Proprietor—And?

Overcall Both Sound and Bad

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South's overcall was eminently sound. It also was a horrible bid.

Not only was his hand strong enough to warrant a takeout double but he also held a perfect hand for that bid since in addition to his five-card heart suit he was well prepared for spades.

South probably expected to be able to bid spades later on but things did not work out that way. West and North passed and East bid one spade.

This took the spade suit away from South and after West had gone to two diamonds and East passed South decided that he wouldn't sell out at that spot and went to two hearts.

The game was match point duplicate so when it got back to East he put in a match point double which worked out very well indeed.

West opened his singleton spade. East won and gave West a ruff. West led the queen of diamonds. East won that also and gave his partner a second ruff. That made four tricks for the defense and West still had his two club tricks and East his jack of trumps so that the penalty amounted to 500 points and a well-deserved bottom score for North and South.

At all other tables the South player made the correct bid of "double" at his first opportunity. Eventually the hand would play at two or three spades by North or three diamonds by East.

There were no doubles and no big scores as all declarers either made their contracts or went down one trick.

Ulster Park Man Is Graduate of Culinary School

ABRAHAM ROSENTHAL

An Ulster Park man was graduated from the Culinary Institute of America, New Haven, Conn., June 7.

He is Abraham Rosenthal, son of Mrs. Lillian Rosenthal, Vineyard Lodge, Ulster Park.

Mr. Rosenthal has successfully completed the school's course which prepares young men for careers with a future in the culinary trades.

After graduation, Mr. Rosenthal intends to work in the Vineyard Lodge, to expand its dining facilities, and, also, to expand the accommodations and recreational facilities of the Friendly Acres Motel.

"The Institute is the only school of its kind in this country," according to Mr. Rosenthal. "It was founded 10 years ago as a non-profit school to help train young men like me in an art that once was restricted to Europeans. Eating out has become our fourth largest retail business, but there just aren't enough skilled chefs and bakers to meet the demand."

The program Mr. Rosenthal has been following offers practical training in the kitchen and bake shops.

Off Its Trolley

Philadelphia, June 10 (AP)—Stray electricity from abandoned trolley tracks has been jumping around the city and causing all sorts of trouble. The problem occurs when a trolley is abandoned but the track system and substation still serve other lines. Then electricity still flows through the unused track even if it's covered by paving. And when a break occurs in the track the current, unable to flow along the rail, starts jumping around. It looks for the nearest metal conductor and leaps. Officials say the galivanting current often winds up in nearby water and gas mains and the electricity is corroding the metal at the rate of a ton a year.

Further Tests

Baltimore, June 10—Further tests were scheduled today for Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, Johns Hopkins University president, hospitalized with what a preliminary diagnosis showed to be a kidney infection. A university spokesman said Eisenhower became ill late Saturday and was confined to his bed at home. He was admitted to Johns Hopkins Hospital yesterday with a fever. Dr. Eisenhower, 57, is the youngest brother of President Eisenhower.

Giant Killers From Baltimore

Orioles Jar White Sox Like They Did Yankees

By Jack Hand
The Associated Press

You can call them the Baltimore Giant Killers from now on after the job the Orioles did on the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees over the last two weekends.

Paul Richards' birds edged into sixth place yesterday by sweping a pair from the league-leading White Sox to make it three out of four in the series. Only a week ago they gave the Yanks a dose of the same three out of four medicine in their own ball park.

Billy O'Dell, a 24-year-old southpaw making his first start of the season, struck out 11 White Sox in Sunday's second game shutout, 5-0, after homers by Tito Francona and Bob Nieman helped the Orioles' ace reliefer, George Zuverink, win his sixth in the opener, 7-5. Baltimore now has won eight of its last 11 games.

The double defeat cost the White Sox a game and a half of their American league lead which still measures 4½ games over the second place New York Yankees, who took advantage of some crazy baserunning and a defensive lapse to whip Detroit, 5-4. The game was marred by a fight between Tom Sturdivant, Yankee starter, and Ray Boone, Tiger first baseman, after Boone narrowly escaped being hit by a pitched ball which glanced off his bat following two Tiger homers.

Cincinnati's determined Redlegs held Brooklyn's defending champs to only one run in 18 innings while taking two from the Dodgers, 3-1 and 3-0.

Redlegs Regain Lead

As a result of the weekend action, Cincinnati has opened up a 1½ game lead in the national after a one-day drop into third place. The Dodgers and Phillies are tied for second because the Phillies lost to Chicago 7-3 and had to settle for a 4-4 tie in the second game, called by the Sunday curfew in Philadelphia. The Cubs had just scored a run in the 10th before the curfew struck but the score reverted to nine innings and a tie. It will be replayed completely at some future date.

Milwaukee stumbled again at Pittsburgh. After winning the 11-inning first game, 2-1, on Roberto Clemente's error and Johnny Logan's single, the Braves bowed to Ronnie Kline in the second game 5-3. Hank Aaron ran his home run total to 15 with one in each game.

St. Louis also edged into the thick of the race by taking two from New York. They won the first, 2-1, for Vinegar Bend Mizell's first victory, and 10-7, for Lindy McDaniel, by scoring six runs in the sixth inning when 11 men went to bat against Steve Ridzik and Johnny Antonelli. Stan Musial hit his 12th homer and played his 821st consecutive game, only one short of the National League record set by Pittsburgh's Gus Suhr in 1937.

Bosox Rap 7 Homers

Although the Orioles created the chief excitement in the American, with the exception of the Tiger-Yankee brawl, there was no other action. Boston hit seven homers in downing Kansas City twice 8-4 and 9-5. Ted Lepcio and Jimmy Piersall each hit two and Ted Williams slammed No. 13.

Cleveland settled for a split with Washington, winning the opener 7-2 on Early Wynn's six-hitter, but losing the second 7-6.

The Orioles' double victory at Chicago was costly because George Kell, veteran third baseman, was hit on the head by a pitch for the second time this season. Kell, who recently connected for his 2,000th hit, suffered a possible hairline fracture as the result of a pitch by Dick Donovan in the second game. Francona also was injured, suffering a fracture of the index finger on his left hand that will keep him out for four weeks. Bob Boyd had six hits in the twin-bill.

The pitch that almost hit Boone really stirred up action at Detroit. Frank Bolling and Charlie Maxwell had just hit successive homers off Sturdivant when a fast ball came close to Boone's head. They met halfway to the mound where three or four blows were exchanged before the players wrestled each other to the ground. Players from both clubs streamed onto the field for a 10-minute rhubarb.

After all the fuss, the Yanks finally won the game when Hank Bauer tried to steal second with the bases loaded and the score tied.

When Earl Torgeson threw to third base, Moose Skowron dashed home, scoring on a swan dive to the plate.

Don Hoak was the big man for Cincinnati, driving in four of the six runs with a homer in each game. George Crowe also homered for the Redlegs and Gil Hodges' eighth was the only Dodger run of the day.

Hal Jeffcoat struck out nine Brooks and allowed only six hits in pitching his first major league shutout after Brooks Lawrence and Tom Acker teamed up in the first game. Lawrence suffered an ankle injury in the eighth.

Nyack Welders Top Dutchmen By 4-3 Score

Poughkeepsie Elks continued their unblemished trek through the New York-New Jersey Baseball League over the weekend, polishing off the New York Bullets, 13-0, for their fourth straight victory.

Saugerties Dutchmen dropped a 4-3 squeaker to the Nyack Welders at Cantine Field, although they outhit the Rockland county tossers, 10 to 7.

In other weekend action, New York Bullets tripped the Staatsburg Knickerbockers, 4 to 1, and Brooklyn Windsors thumped Spring Valley, 9 to 4.

Saugerties, behind starter Jim Meadlock, overcame an early Nyack lead with two runs in the fifth to go ahead of the visitors, 3-2. Single tallies in the sixth and seventh nailed down the Nyack triumph.

Meadlock, relieved by Clark Mains in the seventh, was tagged with the loss.

Martin on Spree

Joe Martin continued his heavy belting for Saugerties with a double and two singles in three trips and an RBI. Bill (Boo) Schaffer, making his first appearance with Saugerties, cracked three singles in five times at bat. Jim Mackey contributed a pair of solo swats.

Martin's double, a pair of walks and a fielder's choice produced a Saugerties tally in the first inning. The Dutchmen went ahead 3-2, in the fifth as Miller singled, Crowe threw wildly on a DP ball and Martin singled. A bases-loaded single by Jim Mackey accounted for the second run of the inning.

Horan, the No. 1 Nyack hurler, relieved starter Morgan during the uprising and checked the Dutchmen without a run over the next four and two-thirds innings.

The winning Nyack tally was racked up in quick fashion when D'Auria walked and Crowe doubled.

A Saugerties bid was snuffed out in the eighth when Schaffer and Mackey singled. Don Whitaker, the Saugerties High school ace, sacrificed the runners along but Horan got Rhodes to pop up and fanned Bill Goff.

D'Auria, the leadoff and Crowe, shortstop, had two hits each for Nyack.

Indian Giver

Brighton, Colo. (AP) — When District Judge Martin J. Miller ruled that four small boys were entitled to share the $2,910 they had found in a vacant lot, there was only one other claimant for any of the money. This was a woman who told the court one of the boys had given her little daughter a $20 bill for a chocolate candy cigarette, but the sheriff later confiscated the money. She felt her little girl was entitled to it, but Judge Miller ruled otherwise.

Crows and Hawks Win Jaycee LL Openers

Speakers Praise Work on New Field

Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce launched a new season of Little League baseball activity Sunday, on a refurbished field with a doubleheader in which the Crows won from the Eagles, 8-4, and the Hawks routed the Wrens, 13 to 2.

Allen Tucker was the big gun for the Crows, limiting the Eagles to two hits and smashing a double and home run. G. Terwilliger also collected two hits for the winners. E. Kessler and G. Moore accounted for the two Eagle safeties.

In the nightcap, the Hawks had only four hits off R. Hyatt and J. Sperling but combined them with several walks and errors to enjoy two 5-run innings against the Wrens.

Ceremonies Held

J. Falvey went the distance for the Hawks, yielding three hits and clouting a single and double in his own behalf.

Pre-game ceremonies placed heavy emphasis on the splendid cooperation of parents and league officials in rebuilding the Jaycee LL park to develop it into one of the finest in the county. Joseph McCaffery was master of ceremonies.

Appearing on the speaking program were John Shults, Vernon J. Kelder of Ellenville, district representative of LL, and Charles McCarthy, league president. All three speakers lauded the parents and the league for their interest in LL baseball and the work done on the new field.

Boy Scout Troop No. 12's band played and led a parade around the field. They are to represent Region 2, Section 10 at Valley Forge Boy Scout Jamboree this year.

Connecticut Names Jackie Robinson to State Parole Board

Hartford, Conn., June 10 (AP) Former Brooklyn Dodger star Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to play baseball in the major leagues, has been appointed to a Board of Parole for the Connecticut State prison.

The three-man board was recently created by the legislature as an outgrowth of a disturbance at the prison last summer.

The two other members named by Gov. Abraham Ribicoff to the board with Robinson, who lives in Stamford, were Chief Justice Patrick B. O'Sullivan of the Connecticut Supreme Court of Errors and Prof. Richard C. Donnelly of Yale, an authority on criminal law and psychiatric jurisprudence.

Robinson retired from baseball early this year to become an employe relations executive with a restaurant chain. His term on the parole board will be for four years, as will Donnelly's. Justice O'Sullivan, who is retiring from the bench in August, was named to a two-year term. All will serve without pay.

Though somewhat doglike in appearance, hyenas do not belong to the dog tribe. They are intermediate between dogs and cats and actually are included in the cat family.

Twaalfskill Golf Chairman Cards Net 66

J. W. Johnson, the Twaalfskill Club's golf chairman, led the Ulster county contingent of golfers who beat Cary Middlecoff on National Golf Day with a net 66.

Johnson was one of 10 Twaalfskill golfers who beat or tied the 1956 U. S. Open champion, who carded a 34-36-70 Saturday at the Inverness Club in Toledo, site of the 1957 Open. Reports are fragmentary as some county clubs did not report.

The Twaalfskill chairman put together a pair of 39s for a gross 78 and had 12 handicap for the net 66.

Tied at net 69s to win the "I Beat the Champ" medals were: Charles Gaffney, 77-8-69; John D. Schoonmaker, 87-18-69, Alvin Boice 71-2-69, William Fuller, 87-18-69, and J. Richard Miller, 86-17-69.

The "70" group included Dr. Douw Meyers, 80-10-70, William Merrill, 92-22-70; N. Levan Haver, 88-18-70; Fred Barthel, 86-16-70.

Richard Overbagh and Richie Diers near-missed with 71s.

Leader of the 44-player contingent at the Woodstock Country Club was Harry Byrnes, who posted 34-37-71 and had 3-handicap for a net 68. Allen Waterous tied Middlecoff with 74-4-70 and J. Carson Hutchins, the home pro matched par figures with 34-36-70.

According to incomplete reports, no woman golfer in the county matched the 73 posted by Mrs. Kathy Cornelius, the United States Women's Open champion, Sunday at Pittsburgh.

This round was postponed from Saturday when the entire third round of the Ladies' PGA championship was called off because of rain.

Macias Defends Title Against Dommy Ursua

(By The Associated Press)

Raul Macias, the National Boxing Association's world bantam champion from Mexico will risk his title Saturday at the Cow Palace in San Francisco against Dommy Ursua, a little 4-foot-11 inch battler from the Philippines.

The 15-round match, originally scheduled for mid-May was set back by Macias who still hopes to meet Alphonse Hailimi of France, recognized as champ by everybody except the NBA.

The slugging school teacher from cut and shoot, Texas, Roy Harris, gets his big test Tuesday at Houston when he takes on highly-ranked Willie Pastrano of New Orleans in a 10-round heavyweight match.

Harris, winner of 20 straight, hit a new high when he won a decision over Bob Baker in his last start.

Pastrano hasn't lost since 1953 and is rated No. 4 by NBA, and No. 3 by Ring Magazine among champion Floyd Patterson's challengers.

While Archie Moore mulls over his future plans, Tony Anthony, No. 1 challenger for his world light heavy crown, keeps busy. Anthony boxes Yvon Durelle, known as the "Fighting Fisherman" from Baie St. Anne, New Brunswick, at Detroit's Olympic Auditorium on the Friday series.

The match will be carried on NBC radio-TV.

Alex Miteff, unbeaten Argentina heavyweight, returns to action after a six-month layoff, when he meets Willie Besmanoff of Germany at St. Nicholas Arena in New York on the Monday TV (Dumont) show.

Miteff's last fight was a 10-round decision over Archie McBride at St. Nick's, Dec. 10. Then he went to Argentina where he was married. Besmanoff won two U. S. starts, including a bout with Bob Baker, but was upset by the same McBride three weeks ago.

The inexperienced South American has had only eight bouts to 50 by Besmanoff.

The Wednesday night fights (ABC-TV) shifts to Norfolk, Va. for a welterweight bout between Virgil Akins of St. Louis and Walter Byar of Boston. Akins stopped Jimmy Beecham in his last outing, May 24. After defeating Sugar Hart in March, Byars lost a decision to Tony De Marco, May 25.

Area Mushroom Pioneer Awarded Hartwick Degree

Herman Knaust of Stroomzeit, Saugerties, pioneer of the Hudson valley mushroom industry, was one of five who received honorary degrees at the commencement exercises at Hartwick College Sunday.

Mr. Knaust was presented for the Doctor of Science degree by Dr. Henry J. Arnold, Hartwick College president emeritus.

He also serves as president of Iron Mountain Underground Storage Vaults, Linlithgo and vice- president of Knaust Brothers Products Corporation. He founded and organized each of these companies in 1920, 1935 and 1951 respectively.

Recognized as originator of mass production methods in mushroom growing, Mr. Knaust has been actively interested in botanic and bio-chemical research for 25 years. He is a consultant for several research centers in New York state.

He is a member of the board of trustees of Hartwick College and the board of trustees of New York City Biblical Seminary. He serves as vice-president of the Aramaic Bible Society in New York city; director of International Christian Leadership, Washington, D. Labor Disputes In New York Hit Low for Year

New York State hit its low for the year in the number of workers involved in labor disputes during the week ending June 1, Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin announced today.

The number of workers affected by labor disputes in the state dropped from 6,435 to 3,765. Main reason for the decline was the settlement of a one-month-old stoppage of 2,500 employes of the Wrecking Contractors Association in New York city.

Stoppage in Buffalo

One stoppage, 325 employes of Loblaw Incorporated in Buffalo, began during the week and was still in effect on June 1.

Nine stoppages, involving 2,995 persons, ended during the June 1 week. In addition to the wreckers' settlement, 225 employes of Gulf Oil Corporation and 150 employes of the Cable Wire Company in New York city ended their disputes. In Hudson, 55 employes returned to work at the McCall Refrigerator Corporation.

Major continuing strikes still in effect on June 1 were 1,100 employes of ACF Industries Incorporated in Buffalo since May 9, and 500 employes of the Crescent Tool Company in Jamestown since May 22.

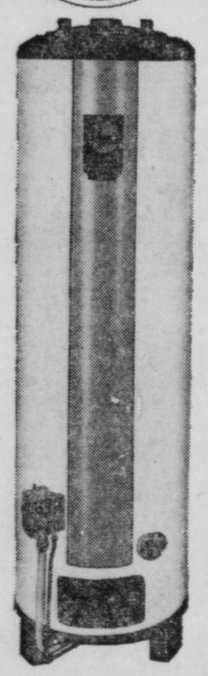

Escapes From Jail

Mayville, N. Y., June 10 (AP)—A small, lightly-built prison "trusty" who spread half-inch steel bars apart to escape from the Chautauqua county jail, was still on the loose today. The escape was made by 146-pound Murley White, 22, of Versailles, who was serving a six-month sentence for assaulting a state trooper. County Sheriff Charles C. McCloskey said White pulled two bars apart in the grill at the end of the second floor corridor and squeezed through a six-and-a-half inch gap. Then he went down two flights of stairs to the basement boiler room and escaped through a rear door.

2. If you spend the $100, we'll give you a year to repay it at a monthly payment of . . . $9.75
